THE INTRODUCTION.

THE principal motive, which gave birth to the preſent work, was a deſire of ſupplying the Britiſh merchants, as well as the officers of his majeſty's revenue, with a practical book, extenſively, and particularly adapted to all circumſtances of the duties of Cuſtoms; the utility of which will appear on conſidering whether the aſſiſtances that have been provided, antecedently hereto, for the merchants and officers, in regard to the computation of theſe duties, are ſufficient for that purpoſe. Theſe aſſiſtances are an alphabetical catalogue of the goods which are ſuppoſed to be imported and exported, with their ſeveral rates or valuations, the net duties laid upon theſe rates, and certain letters or characters annexed to each ſpecies of goods, bearing reference to a table that points out the ſeveral branches which compoſe theſe duties. Under theſe aſſiſtances, a diſtinct knowledge of the branches of the cuſtoms, and of the principles by which they are governed, is evidently neceſſary towards forming a juſt calculation of the ſaid duties; which knowledge cannot be obtained, with any degree of certainty, without much ſtudy and practice, and therefore falls within the power of few perſons. And as the net duties flowing from the ſeveral rates and valuations in former works, extend no further than to that particular quantity of goods on which the rate is fixed, which quantity generally falls ſhort of, or exceeds the entry given, a very troubleſome computation, in regard to the deficiency or exceſs, is further neceſſary; whereas, by the extenſive computations exhibited in this work, the total net duties of cuſtoms ariſing to the crown, upon the largeſt or ſmalleſt quantity of goods that can be compriſed in any entry, are obtained by only adding two or three ſums together.

As to ſuch merchants and officers of the cuſtoms who are skilled in computing the duties payable to the crown, and make their computations upon the ſeveral branches which compoſe ſuch duties, even theſe gentlemen, by being furniſhed in this work with the total net duties on any given quantity of goods, will obtain an uſeful cheque for proving the rectitude of their own computations, and ſometimes avoid miſtakes, which the moſt intelligent perſons are liable to on this ſubject.

A FURTHER motive for compiling this work, aroſe from the new duties upon dry goods, wines, coals, and other articles, which have been laid on ſince the publication of Mr. SAXBY's edition of CROUCH's work, in 1757: So that members of parliament, and perſons concerned in the legiſlature, as well as gentlemen intereſted in commerce, and even many officers of the cuſtoms, have been at a loſs in regard to aſcertaining the juſt amount of the duties as they now ſtand, upon goods imported and exported; and have had no ſtandard to refer to for obtaining due information on this ſubject, except the printed acts of parliament.

IN the abſtract of the laws relative to the cuſtoms, inſerted at the end of this work, the outmoſt care has been taken to comprehend all the regulations relative to this great branch of the public revenue, which have been eſtabliſhed by the legiſlature to the end of the laſt ſeſſion of parliament, in the year 1765, incluſive.

ALTERATIONS are made in this work in the arrangement of ſeveral ſpecies of merchandize, which, it is hoped, will place them in a clearer view, and remove them from being involved, as they have been in ſeveral inſtances, with articles of a different genus. Some articles are alſo expunged, which either ſtand prohibited to be imported, or otherwiſe appeared, in certain places, to incumber the work, without any utility: At the ſame time, a liſt of all prohibited goods is inſerted immediately after the abſtract of the laws.

THE work here offered conſiſts of three Compartments or Diviſions, each containing ſeveral Chapters, and comprehending the whole extent of the cuſtoms, in regard to the various circumſtances of importation, exportation, and the coaſt buſineſs: To each of which Compartments are prefixed proper explanations, which deſcribe the form and conſtruction of the ſeveral tables therein contained, and ſerve to remove any difficulties that might occur in making uſe of theſe tables.

How far the execution of this work is anſwerable to the motives which gave birth to it, is ſubmitted to the candid reader: All the merit which the author pretends to, is the perſeverance he has ſhewn in making, with continued labour and attention, the extenſive calculations therein, in order to prevent miſtakes, and promote the eaſe of the merchants and of the officers of the revenue.

This work was deſigned to have been publiſhed ſeveral months ago, but the difficulty of printing it, and the additional columns which were obliged to be added for deſcribing the drawbacks allowed on goods exported to the Britiſh colonies in America, made it impracticable. This extenſion of columns made it alſo impoſſible to print the book on the paper deſcribed in the propoſals, a larger ſize being neceſſary.

7	7.	28.	the other moiety	ditto	for ever.

The money ariſing by this branch, which comes into the hands of the receiver-general of the cuſtoms, is (after deducting the drawbacks thereof on exportation, and alſo the over-entries, damages, and diſcounts on tobacco-bonds paid off; and after payment of the bounties on corn, ſpirits, ſilk manufactures, ſugar refined, gunpowder, ſail-cloth exported, bounties on indico, Greenland and white-herring fiſheries; together with allowances for damaged tobacco cut off, and unmerchantable wines, portage bills, &c. and all charges of management, except otherwiſe particularly directed) paid into the Exchequer in moieties, for the purpoſes hereafter mentioned.

By act 4 Geo. III. cap. 15. § 1. 26. the whole of the Old Subſidy, is, on the exportation of any foreign goods, of the growth, production, or manufacture of Europe or the Eaſt Indies, to the Britiſh colonies in America, retained, to conſtitute a fund for defraying the expence of defending, protecting, and ſecuring the ſaid colonies.

N°. I. Subſidy inwards, or Old Subſidy.

THIS duty is compoſed of a TONNAGE and a POUNDAGE, which names ariſe from the different regulations, whereby it is impoſed and levied.

By the act of 12 Car. II. cap 4. it is called a TONNAGE duty on wines imported, being thereon regulated by a ſum certain on every ton; and it is called a POUNDAGE duty on other goods and merchandize imported, being thereon regulated by a certain portion of a pound (or twenty ſhillings) of a rate or valuation.

TONNAGE therefore is payable (in ready money (a) before landing) on all wines imported (b) except priſage wines; and by the 13th and 14th of Car. II. cap. 11. vinegar, perry, rape of grapes, ſyder and ſyder-eager, which by 12 Car. II. cap 4. were under the common regulations of poundage, are made ſubject to tonnage for this ſubſidy; on all which it is to be reſpectively levied and collected according to the ſeveral regulations following, from a place of growth, the ſaid 12 per cent. for leakage is not allowed except on Madeira wines, (f).

But if he thinks that this allowance is leſs than the actual leakage, he may (by practice) refuſe it, and pay duty for no more wine than is found by gauging to be contained in the caſks on their landing.

It was anciently the method to aſcertain the quantity of wine in ſuch caſes, by filling up the caſks out of each other, and hence the terms of wine (imported in caſks) entered UNFILLED or FILLED.

By the 6th of Geo. I. cap. 12. the following allowances are alſo to be made out of the ſeveral groſs duties on wines imported in caſks; being in lieu of former abatements (by virtue of the 10th rule of the book of rates) at the diſcretion of the officers of the cuſtoms for damage on corrupt and unmerchantable wines.

But note, that wines ſo removed in bottles or caſks are ſuppoſed full or filled up, therefore it is the practice, in the firſt caſe, to allow no diſcount, and, in the laſt, all but the 12 per cent. for leakage.

The difference to be paid on this branch, for wine ſo to be removed from any out-port to London, is as follows:

			Groſs duty. £.	s.	d.

TOBACCO

(w) TOBACCO of the Britiſh plantations ——— 25 per cent.
(x) ——— not of the Britiſh plantations ——— 5 and 8 per cent.
Which allowance of 8 per cent. is not to be deducted on exportation.
(y) ALL OTHER GOODS, ——— 5 per cent.

The method of computing the aforeſaid ſubſidy of poundage, is illuſtrated in the following examples, viz.

Example the firſt.
1200 lb of Britiſh plantation tobacco.

Upon recourſe to the head of tobacco in chap. 1. of the ſecond Compartment, this ſort will be found to be rated at 1 s. 8 d. per pound; at which rate the quantity propoſed amounts to	100	0	0
The groſs ſubſidy being five per cent. of the rate, amounts to	5	0	0
The diſcount at twenty-five per cent. to be deducted, amounts to	1	5	0
The remainder, being the net ſubſidy, to be paid, amounts to	3	15	0

Example the ſecond.
1500 lb of Spaniſh tobacco.

The amount of the rate, which, as before directed, will be found to be ten ſhillings per pound	750	0	0
The groſs ſubſidy at five per cent.	37	10	0
The firſt diſcount at five per cent.	1	17	6
	35	12	6
The ſecond diſcount at eight per cent.	2	17	0
The net ſubſidy to be paid	32	15	6

Example the third.
100 lb of Italian wrought ſilk, imported from Italy, in a Britiſh ſhip.

The amount of the rate, being 1 l. 13 s. 4 d. per pound	166	13	4
The groſs ſubſidy at five per cent.	8	6	8
The diſcount at five per cent.	0	8	4
The net ſubſidy to be paid	7	18	4

Or this duty may be wrought after the following manner, being the practice of the port of London.

Suppoſe the laſt example.

The amount of the rate, as before	166	13	4
The diſcount at five per cent.	8	6	8
	158	6	8
The net ſubſidy to be paid, at five per cent.	7	18	4

And after the method of theſe examples, may the ſubſidy of poundage on all other ſpecies of goods be computed.

This duty of poundage is alſo payable (after the rate of five per cent. of the value upon oath) for ſhips taken as prize, and regularly condemned in the Court of Admiralty: but it is the practice not to charge them with any other duty whatſoever.

The aforeſaid ſubſidy of tonnage and poundage having been duly paid at importation; if the goods ſhall be afterwards (z) duly exported to foreign parts, within (a) three years, from the maſter's report of the ſhip, the exporter is intitled to the DRAWBACK or REPAYMENT, in the following manner:

As this impoſt includes a variety of circumſtances, the exemplification of the method uſed in computing this branch, will be beſt underſtood by the following examples.

Suppoſe two caſks, containing one ton Spaniſh wine, entered either as filled or unfilled, and imported by a vintner or retailer, in ſuch a caſe the net impoſt will be thus.

	Filled or unfilled.
The groſs impoſt per ton	12 0 0
10 per cent.	1 4 0
Net impoſt by vintners or retailers	10 16 0

If the ſaid wine ſhould be imported for private uſe, and from a place of growth, the computation of the impoſt will be after the following manner:

Filled.				Unfilled.
12	0	0	Groſs duty	12	0	0
0	0	0	12 per cent. for leakage	1	8	$9\frac{12}{20}$
12	0	0		10	11	$2\frac{8}{20}$
0	12	0	5 per cent. prompt payment	0	10	$6\frac{15}{20}$
11	8	0		10	0	$7\frac{13}{20}$
1	4	0	10 per cent of the groſs duty	1	4	0
10	4	0	Imported for private uſe	8	16	$7\frac{13}{20}$

If

In caſe the ſaid wine ſhould be imported not from a place of growth, then this impoſt will be computed thus.

	Filled or unfilled.
Groſs duty	12 0 0
5 per cent. for prompt payment	0 12 0
	11 8 0
10 per cent. of the groſs duty	1 4 0
Imported for private uſe	10 4 0

Suppoſe the two caſks, containing one ton Spaniſh wine, ſhould be imported for ſale from a place of growth, and the duties paid down, the computation of this branch will then be as follows:

Filled.		Unfilled.
12 0 0	Groſs duty	12 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	1 8 $9\frac{12}{20}$
12 0 0		10 11 $2\frac{8}{20}$
0 19 $2\frac{8}{20}$	8 per cent. for waſte	0 16 $10\frac{16}{20}$
11 0 $9\frac{12}{20}$		9 14 $3\frac{12}{20}$
0 11 $0\frac{10}{20}$	5 per cent. for prompt payment	0 9 $8\frac{11}{20}$
10 9 $9\frac{2}{20}$		9 4 $7\frac{1}{20}$
1 4 0	10 per cent of the groſs duty	1 4 0
9 5 $9\frac{2}{20}$	Net impoſt for ſale paid down, if imported from a place of growth	8 0 $7\frac{1}{20}$

On the ſuppoſal that this wine ſhould be imported for ſale not from a place of growth, in ſuch a caſe the impoſt ſhould be computed thus:

	Filled or unfilled.
Groſs duty	12 0 0
8 per cent. for waſte	0 19 $2\frac{8}{20}$
	11 0 $9\frac{12}{20}$
5 per cent for prompt payment	0 11 $0\frac{10}{20}$
	10 9 $9\frac{2}{20}$
10 per cent. of the groſs duty	1 4 0
Net impoſt for ſale paid down, if not imported from a place of growth	9 5 $9\frac{2}{20}$

As it is optional to the merchant whether he will pay down this duty or ſecure it, ſo in caſe he chuſes the latter, the computation of this branch ſhould be thus:

Two caſks, containing one ton Spaniſh wine, imported for ſale from a place of growth, and the duty bonded.

Filled.		Unfilled.
12 0 0	Groſs duty	12 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	1 8 $9\frac{12}{20}$
12 0 0		10 11 $2\frac{8}{20}$
0 19 $2\frac{8}{20}$	8 per cent. for waſte	0 16 $10\frac{16}{20}$
11 0 $9\frac{12}{20}$		9 14 $3\frac{12}{20}$
1 4 0	10 per cent. of the groſs duty	1 4 0
9 16 $9\frac{12}{20}$	Net impoſt bonded, imported for ſale from a place of growth	8 10 $3\frac{12}{20}$

Should the wine be imported not from a place of growth, then the duty may be calculated as follows:

	Filled or unfilled.
Groſs duty	12 0 0
8 per cent. for waſte	0 19 $2\frac{8}{10}$
	11 0 $9\frac{12}{10}$
10 per cent. of the groſs duty	1 4 0
Net impoſt bonded, imported for ſale, not from a place of growth	9 16 $9\frac{12}{10}$

The ſame variety of circumſtances which attend the computation of this branch with regard to wines, being in ſome meaſure extended to Vinegar, it is apprehended that the following examples will ſufficiently explain the manner of finding out the net impoſt in reſpect to this article.

Suppoſe an importation of three caſks, containing one ton of vinegar, by a vintner, and entered either as filled or unfilled; according to which circumſtances, the computation will be thus:

Filled.		Unfilled.
8 0 0	Groſs duty by vintner or retailer	8 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	0 19 $2\frac{8}{10}$
8 0 0	Net impoſt by vintner or retailer	7 0 $9\frac{12}{10}$

Inſtead of being imported by a vintner or retailer, it may be entered by any other perſon for private uſe, and in this caſe the calculation ſhould be performed as follows:

Filled.		Unfilled.
8 0 0	Groſs duty	8 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	0 19 $2\frac{8}{10}$
8 0 0		7 0 $9\frac{12}{10}$
0 8 0	5 per cent. for prompt payment	0 7 $0\frac{9}{10}$
7 12 0	Net impoſt if imported for private uſe	6 13 $9\frac{3}{10}$

The above vinegar may likewiſe be imported for ſale, and inſtead of the net impoſt being paid down, the merchant may be deſirous of giving bond or ſecurity for the payment thereof: And when this happens, the method of computing the impoſt will be thus:

Filled.		Unfilled.
8 0 0	Groſs duty	8 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	0 19 $2\frac{8}{10}$
8 0 0		7 0 $9\frac{12}{10}$
0 12 $9\frac{12}{10}$	8 per cent. for waſte	0 11 $3\frac{8}{10}$
7 7 $2\frac{8}{10}$	Net impoſt for ſale, bonded	6 9 $6\frac{9}{10}$

If the impoſt is paid down in ready money, then calculate the branch after the following manner.

Filled.		Unfilled.
8 0 0	Groſs duty	8 0 0
0 0 0	12 per cent. for leakage	0 19 $2\frac{8}{10}$
8 0 0		7 0 $9\frac{12}{10}$
0 12 $9\frac{12}{10}$	8 per cent. for waſte	0 11 $3\frac{3}{10}$
7 7 $2\frac{8}{10}$		6 9 $6\frac{9}{10}$
0 7 $4\frac{7}{10}$	5 per cent. for prompt payment	0 6 $5\frac{14}{10}$
6 19 $10\frac{1}{10}$	Net impoſt for ſale, paid down	6 3 $0\frac{15}{10}$

After the manner of the aforegoing examples may the net impoſt be computed on wines or vinegar in all the various caſes of entry that can ariſe.

And ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer quantities; obſerving, that (g) where this duty is to be levied according to the rate or value, the meaning is, according to the reſpective rates of the goods as eſtabliſhed by 12 Car. II. cap. 4. and 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. or if not there rated, according to their value and price upon oath, &c. as for the old ſubſidy of poundage, &c. and that this duty is not to be reckoned into the ſaid value.

Which ſaid impoſt duty, muſt be paid and ſecured in the manner following, viz.

(h) Pepper { To be paid down at entry — ⅓ part. / To be ſecured by bond, payable at twelve months — ⅔ parts.

But by 8 Ann. cap. 7. § 20. pepper muſt be warehouſed at importation, upon paying down only half the old ſubſidy.

(k) For the method of payment of this duty on Eaſt-Indian goods, ſee chap. 3d, of the 2d compartment.

But

But if the importer chuſes to pay down the duty at entry, he is to be allowed diſcount after the rate of 10 per cent. per annum; which being equated to the ſum of the duty in reſpect of pepper, and to the times of payment in reſpect of all other goods, reduces it as follows:

	Diſcount.
For PEPPER	$6\frac{2}{3}$ per cent.
For ALL OTHER GOODS	$6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent.

For the method made uſe of in computing this branch, take the following Examples:

100 lb of Italian wrought ſilk, imported from Italy in a Britiſh ſhip.

Upon recourſe to the head of Silk in chapter the ſecond, of the firſt compartment, this ſort will be found to be rated at 1 l. 13 s. 4 d. per pound, at which rate it amounts to	166	13	4
5 per cent. of this being groſs old ſubſidy	8	6	8
The groſs impoſt, being 10 per cent. or 2 s. for every 20 s. of the old ſubſidy, amounts to	16	13	4
Diſcount at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. to be deducted for prompt payment, amounts to —	1	0	10
The net impoſt to be paid down at entry	15	12	6

Three hundred weight of ginger of the Britiſh plantations, imported directly, and in Britiſh built ſhipping.

The amount of the rate at 1 s. 4 d. per pound, is	22	8	0
Whereof one third part, according to the rule following the rates on ſpice, in favour of a direct importation, is	7	9	4
The groſs impoſt on this ſum, at 10 per cent. or 2 s. in the pound	0	14	$11\frac{4}{15}$
Diſcount at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. for prompt payment	0	0	$11\frac{4}{15}$
Net impoſt to be paid	0	14	0

Suppoſe this ginger to be imported not from a place of growth, nor in Britiſh built ſhipping, then the impoſt ſhould be calculated thus:

The amount of the rate, as before	22	8	0
The groſs impoſt at 10 per cent. &c.	2	4	$9\frac{12}{20}$
Diſcount at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. &c.	0	2	$9\frac{12}{20}$
Net impoſt to be paid	2	2	0

2400 lb of pepper imported directly from the place of its growth in Britiſh built ſhipping.

The groſs impoſt, at $\frac{1}{2}$ d. per pound amounts to	5	0	0
Diſcount at $6\frac{2}{3}$ l. per cent. to be deducted for prompt payment, amounts to —	0	6	8
The net impoſt to be paid, amounts to	4	13	4

Theſe Examples, if carefully obſerved, will be ſufficient for pointing out the method of computing the impoſt 1690, on any ſpecies of goods liable thereto.

But by 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. § 3. ſuch goods as are rated by that act, and are liable to this 70th Article, muſt pay this duty according to ſuch rates as directed for the Old Subſidy.

(d) Which ſaid additional impoſt duty may be paid at (e) four equal and quarterly payments, upon the importer's giving ſecurity for the ſame: but if he chuſes to pay down the duty at entry, he is to be allowed diſcount, after the rate of 10 l. per cent. per annum, which being equated to the times of payment, reduces it to $6\frac{1}{4}$ l. per cent.

(f) And upon the importation of French wines in caſks, there is alſo to be a farther allowance of 6 l. per cent. out of this groſs duty.

For the method of computation, take the following example.

Four caſks, containing one ton of French wines, filled or unfilled.

The groſs impoſt 1692 per ton	8	0	0
6 per cent. of the groſs duty	0	9	$7\frac{4}{20}$
The net impoſt 1692 — to be ſecured —	7	10	$4\frac{16}{20}$
The groſs impoſt 1692 per ton	8	0	0
$6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. for prompt payment	0	10	0
	7	10	0
6 per cent. of the groſs duty	0	9	$7\frac{4}{20}$
The net impoſt 1692 — to be paid	7	0	$4\frac{16}{20}$

		per ton.			per gal.
So that the net impoſt 1692 on French wines in caſks, will be if	paid	7	0	$4\frac{16}{20}$	,027857
	ſecured	7	10	$4\frac{16}{20}$	,029841

The computation of this branch, ſo far as reſpects French wines, will be eaſily underſtood by the above example; and in regard to other French goods, the following examples, it is apprehended, will ſufficiently point out the manner of calculating this branch on them.

(c) 11 and 12 Will. III. cap. 10. § 10.
(d) 4 and 5 Will. and Mar. cap. 5 § 6.
(e) For the method of payment of this duty on Eaſt-Indian goods, ſee chap. 3d, of the 2d compartment.
(f) 6 Geo. I. cap. 12. § 2.

Suppoſe

Suppoſe 150 Cwt. of Frankincenſe (a drug) ſhould be imported from a place of growth, the computation of this branch will then be thus:

Groſs Old Subſidy, or 5 per cent. on the rate	4	10	0
25 per cent. on the above, is	22	10	0
Whereof one third part, agreeable to the rule at the end of drugs, in favour of a direct importation, amounts to	7	10	0
Deduct one fourth	1	17	6
One fourth more, being the diſcount	0	9	4½
Net Impoſt	7	0	7½

If the Frankincenſe ſhould be imported not from a place of growth, then calculate this branch as follows:

Groſs Old Subſidy, or 5 per cent. on the rate	4	10	0
25 per cent. on the above, is	22	10	0
Deduct one fourth	5	12	6
One fourth more, being the diſcount	1	8	1½
Net Impoſt	21	1	1½

Earthen Ware, and Glaſs manufactures, are chargeable with the Impoſt 1692, in the manner following:

800 lb French earthen ware, not rated, valued at	33	6	8
5 per cent. of this is	1	13	4
2½ per cent. is	0	16	8
Groſs Old Subſidy at 7½ per cent.	2	10	0
25 per cent. on the firſt ſum of 1 l. 13 s. 4 d. is	8	6	8
Deduct one fourth	2	1	8
One fourth more, being the diſcount	0	10	5
Net Impoſt	7	16	3

The reaſon why the 25 per cent. is calculated only on the 1 l. 13 s. 4 d. and not on the total of 2 l. 10 s. ariſes from the firſt ſum being the produce of the value at five per cent. and this branch is, by 4 and 5 Will. and Mar. cap. 5. directed to be computed only according to the rate or value of any ſpecies of goods.

The computation of this branch on Toys may be performed thus:

A parcel of unrated French toys, valued at	600	0	0
5 per cent. is	30	0	0
One fifth	6	0	0
Two thirds	4	0	0
Groſs Old Subſidy at 6⅔ per cent.	40	0	0
25 per cent. on the firſt ſum of 30 l. is	150	0	0
Deduct one fourth	37	10	0
One fourth more, being the diſcount	9	7	6
Net Impoſt	140	12	6

All

All other French goods, chargeable with the impoſt 1692 at 25 per cent. will ſtand thus:

100 Cwt. Cocoa Nuts from a French plantation.

Amount of the rate	250	0	0
Groſs Old Subſidy, on which at 5 per cent.	12	10	0
25 per cent. on this ſum amounts to —	62	10	0
Deduct one fourth	15	12	6
One fourth more, being the diſcount —	3	18	1½
Net Impoſt	58	11	10½

Appropriation.

See No. I. Customs.

(a) This branch is, over and above all other former duties and impoſitions whatſoever, to be paid upon the importation of the following goods, viz.

		The duty.
Cinnamon, Cloves, Mace, Nutmegs	for every 20 s. of their reſpective rates	0 1 0
Pictures, whether for private uſe, or for ſale,	for every 20 s. of their value	0 4 0

But the duties on pictures having been ſince otherwiſe regulated by 8 Geo. I. cap. 20. this branch thereon is now computed at four ſhillings on every twenty ſhillings of an imaginary or feigned rate, adapted to the reſpective circumſtances of importation. See Pictures and the examples of computation in chapter the ſecond of the firſt compartment, at the Letter P.

(b) To be aſcertained, ſecured, raiſed, levied, recovered, anſwered, paid, and accounted for, by ſuch rules, ways, means, and methods, under ſuch penalties and forfeitures, and in ſuch manner and form, as directed for the former duty, No. 14.

		The duty.
Drugs, viz. (c) Rated by 12 Car. II. cap. 4.	For every 20 s. of their reſpective rates, but regard to be had to the rule, at the end of the Rates on drugs, in favour of a direct importation, &c. ——	0 2 0 or 10 per cent.
Drugs, viz. (d) Rated by 11 Geo. I. cap. 7.	For every 20 s. of ſuch their reſpective rates ——	0 0 $9\frac{12}{20}$ or 4 per cent.

(a) 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 5.
(b) 3 and 4 Ann. cap 4. § 7.
(c) 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 8. 9.

(d) 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 8. 9.
11 Geo. I. cap. 7. § 3.

		The duty.
Drugs, viz. (e) Not at all rated and imported from East-India, China, or Perſia	For every 20 s. of the true and real value thereof, according to the groſs price (reduced) at which they ſhall be ſold at the candle	0 0 $9\frac{12}{20}$ or 4 per cent.
(f) Not at all rated and imported from any other places	For every 20 s. of their values upon the oath or affirmation of the importer, as for the old ſubſidy
(g) Porcelan, commonly called China or Japan-ware, made of earth	For every 20 s. of the true and real value thereof, according to the groſs price (reduced) at which they ſhall be ſold at the candle	0 2 $4\frac{16}{20}$ or 12 per cent.

(b) This duty on Porcelan and Unrated drugs from Eaſt-India, &c. is to be ſecured, aſcertained, valued, raiſed, levied, collected, anſwered, and paid by ſuch ways and means, and with ſuch allowances, and in ſuch manner and form, &c. as directed for the Old Subſidy on unrated Eaſt-India goods.

		The groſs duty.
(i) White Callicoes, which do not pay duties as muſlins — Dimities — All other manufactures made of Cotton	For every 20 s. of the true and real value thereof, according to the groſs price, at which they ſhall be ſold at the candle	0 3 0 or 15 per cent.

(k) This duty on White Callicoes, Dimities, and other manufactures made of Cotton, is to be ſecured, aſcertained, valued, raiſed, levied, collected, anſwered, and paid by ſuch ways and means, and ſubject to ſuch allowances, and in ſuch manner and form, as directed for the fifteen per cent. on Muſlins, N°. 13.

The method of computing this branch, ſo far as reſpects Drugs and Porcelan, being pretty difficult, and not eaſily acquired without a good deal of practice, it is ſuppoſed that the following ſet of examples will render the computation of this duty extremely eaſy, and prevent any perſon of the ſmalleſt capacity from committing a miſtake in the calculation of it.

Drugs rated by 12 Car. II. cap. 4.

Example the firſt.

800 lb Rhubarb, imported directly from a place of its growth, and in a Britiſh ſhip.

The amount of the rate at 20 s. per pound	800 0 0
5 per cent. on the rate	40 0 0
One third of this 5 per cent. agreeable to the rule at the end of drugs, is	13 6 8
10 per cent. or 2 s. in the pound on this ſum, makes the duty required, being	26 13 4

If the Rhubarb, abovementioned, is imported not from a place of growth, or in a foreign built ſhip, then this duty will be computed thus:

Amount of the rate as before	800 0 0
5 per cent. on treble the rate, as by 8 and 9 Will. III. cap. 34. is	120 0 0
One third of this ſum is	40 0 0
10 per cent. or 2 s. in the pound on this, makes the duty required, being	80 0 0

Drugs rated by 11 Geo. I. cap. 7.

Example the ſecond.

2000 lb Cortex Peruvianus.

Amount of the rate at 2 s. 6 d. per pound, is	250 0 0
5 per cent. on the rate	12 10 0
From this ſum deduct one fifth, being	2 10 0
Net new duty at 4 per cent.	10 0 0

(e) 2 and 3 Ann. cap. 9. § 6. 7. 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 8. 9.
(f) 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 8. 9. 10 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. § 7.

(i) 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 8.
(k) 2 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. § 9. 7 Geo. I. cap. 21. § 11.

Example

Example the third.

Unrated drugs imported from any place, and valued at	1000	0	0
5 per cent. on the rate	50	0	0
From this ſum deduct one fifth, being	10	0	0
Net duty at 4 per cent.	40	0	0

Example the fourth.

Certain Porcelan, ſold at the candle for	500	0	0
Net, or reduced value thereon	287	11	10½
6 per cent. of this reduced value is	17	5	1½
A further 6 per cent. is	17	5	1½
Net duty at 12 per cent.	34	10	2½

For the method of finding out the net, or reduced value on the Porcelan, vide Chapter the third in ſecond Compartment.

BY 7 and 8 Will. III. cap. 20. § 3, 4, 5, 6. was granted from 28 February 1696, for 21 years, and from thence to the end of the next ſeſſions of parliament.
1 Geo. I. cap. 12. § 3. continued for ever.

APPROPRIATION.

See No. I. CUSTOMS.

(a) This branch is, over and above all former duties and impoſitions, to be paid upon the importation of the following goods, and to be raiſed, levied, collected, and paid in the ſame manner and form, and by ſuch rules, means, and ways, and under ſuch penalties and forfeitures, as directed for the Cuſtoms.

		The duty. per ton. £.	s.	d.	per gal.
FRENCH	Vinegar	15	0	0	,059523
	Wine	25	0	0	,099206
	All other goods (b), (except brandy (c) and other ſpirits,) of the growth, product, or manufacture of France; for every 20 s. of the reſpective rates or values upon oath, (but regard to be had to the rule at the end of the rates of drugs in favour of a direct importation, &c.)	0	5	0

(d) Which duty is to be paid in ready money, without any deduction; except upon (e) French wines imported in caſks, out of which muſt be deducted 6 l. per cent. as out of the former duties.

	per ton.	per gal.
So that this duty net upon French wines, imported in caſks, will be	23 10 0	,093253

Upon exportation ——— NOT DRAWN BACK.

To prevent any miſtake as to the above note with reſpect to drugs in favour of a direct importation, I ſhall ſubjoin the following examples.

Suppoſe an importation of 150 Cwt. Frankincenſe, from a place of growth, in ſuch a caſe the duty ſhould be calculated thus:

Groſs Old ſubſidy, or 5 per cent. on the rate ———	4 10 0
25 per cent. on the above is ———	22 10 0
Whereof one third part, agreeable to the rule at the end of drugs, in favour of a direct importation, amounts to	7 10 0

which is the real 25 per cent. chargeable on the above quantity of Frankincenſe.

If the above Frankincenſe ſhould be imported not from a place of growth, then the amount of this branch will be	22 10 0

If any particular articles, not included (as French) in the tables of general goods, ſhould be imported, then this branch muſt be added to the other computations of duties chargeable on them, and calculated as the following example:

2000 ℔ French Radix Eringii.

The rate, at 6 d. per pound, is ———	50 0 0
Of which the 5 per cent. is ———	2 10 0
25 per cent. on which ſum amounts to —	12 10 0

And, beſides this branch, there muſt be added alſo the Impoſt 1692, which ſee at page 34. though it muſt be noted, that if the goods are the product of any French colony, and not of the French dominions in Europe, they are only liable to the firſt 25 per cent. being the Impoſt 1692.

II. cap. 23. § 17. from the 29th of September 1736, this (as well as all other duties then payable on Spirits) is made part of the Aggregate Fund; and by the 27th of Geo. No. 19. DUTY on PEPPER, RAISINS, and SPICE.

BY 8 Ann. cap. 7. § 14. was granted from 6 February 1709, for 32 years.
6 Geo. I. cap. 4. § 1. continued for ever.

APPROPRIATION.

By 6 Geo. I. cap. 4. this branch is appropriated to the increased and additional fund of the South-Sea company, for so much of the annuities (granted by 8 Ann. cap. 7.) as was subscribed to the capital of the said company, and the surplus to the Aggregate Fund.

This

(a) This branch is, over and above all former duties, to be paid upon the importation of the following goods; and is to be aſcertained, ſecured, raiſed, levied, recovered, and anſwered by ſuch rules, ways, means and methods, and under ſuch penalties and forfeitures, as the other duties upon the ſame reſpective goods.

(e) But pepper at importation muſt be warehouſed, upon payment of the half ſubſidy, and, if exported, is liable to to no further duty; and this duty is to be paid only for what ſhall be delivered out of ſuch warehouſes, in order to be conſumed in Great-Britain.

(f) For the payment (g) of this duty on all the aforeſaid goods, except Pepper, the importer is to be allowed 12 months, upon his giving ſecurity at the Cuſtom-houſe; but if he pays down the ſame in ready money, he is to be allowed 10 l. per cent. prompt payment.

The manner of finding out this duty on Cinnamon, Cloves, Mace, and Nutmegs, being a little ambiguous, at leaſt to thoſe who are not very converſant in calculations, it will be proper to obſerve, that the intention is to charge theſe Spices with this branch, according to what ariſes from the Old Subſidy, New Subſidy, One-third and Two-thirds Subſidies, and the New and Additional Duties on Spices, &c. ſo that whatever the amount of theſe branches are, the above mentioned groſs duty will always be the ſame, as ſufficiently appears from the following example:

1200 lb of Cinnamon imported from Holland.

Amount of the rate at 4 d. per pound	20	o	o
Diſcount at 5 per cent.	1	o	o

Woollen Cloths white.

By 6 Ann cap. 8. § 1. a duty was laid on White woollen cloths exported, being

For every piece of WHITE WOOLLEN CLOTH, commonly called BROAD CLOTH 0 5 0

As conſiderable alterations were made in regard to the duty chargeable on goods exported by ſundry Acts of parliament, prior to the 8 Geo. I. cap. 15. and ſince theſe alterations rather tend to perplex than afford any proper inſtruction, it has been thought expedient to omit the inſertion of any ſpecies of goods except thoſe which do at this preſent time pay a duty outwards.——By this means it will eaſily appear, with the greateſt preciſion, what goods are really chargeable with the Subſidy Outwards, and what are not.—An advantage of ſome conſequence to the trading part of Great-Britain.

No. 43. PRISAGE and BUTLERAGE.

THESE are ancient duties payable to the crown of England (by prerogative) upon the importation of wines, but are now, and generally have been, granted from the crown by gift or patent.

(a) PRISAGE is a certain taking or purveyance of wines to the King's uſe, out of every ſhip bringing in wines belonging to the natives of England, except the merchants of London, the Cinque Ports, Southampton, and Cheſter, which are exempted by particular charters: to be taken upon the breaking of bulk, or unloading any part of the ſhip's cargo, according to the whole quantity on board, though there be not more than one ton landed.

This duty is either SINGLE or DOUBLE.

SINGLE PRISAGE is one ton, and is due in kind, when the quantity imported amounts to, or exceeds ten tons, but is under twenty tons: for if under ten tons, there is not any priſage due.

DOUBLE PRISAGE is two tons, and is due in kind, when the quantity imported amounts to, or exceeds twenty tons, which is the moſt due out of any one ſhip: one ton to be taken before, and the other behind the maſt, at the pleaſure of the King's butler or priſage maſter; who may taſte the whole cargo, and chuſe the beſt wines, and fill up the caſks, or chuſe thoſe that are the fulleſt, and take them away, allowing only 20 s. (b) per ton for freight: but it may be compounded for at a certain price, as is the practice in London, &c.

But in regard to wines imported into Scotland; on a cauſe in the court of Exchequer between her majeſty's attorney-general and James Gordon, merchant, it was decreed in the year 1713, that priſage was not payable thereon.

BUTLERAGE is a duty of two ſhillings on every ton of wine imported by merchants ſtrangers, by Charta mercatoria (c), in lieu of priſage, to be paid within forty days after the wines are landed.

Of

Of the USE of the referring LETTERS and FIGURES at the end of the columns of the following RATES and DUTIES.

NOtwithſtanding, that in every one of the foregoing Branches, it is fully ſet forth what ſpecies of goods and merchandize are their immediate objects, nevertheleſs, as the Branches are become very numerous, and as the ſeveral ſpecies are variouſly ſubject to more or leſs of theſe Branches, it ſeems hardly poſſible by memory (without daily practice) to be expert in an exact application of the proper Branches to the ſeveral articles of goods and merchandize under their various circumſtances of importation, &c. neither was it poſſible to have provided columns ſufficient to arrange all the reſpective Branches againſt each article: Therefore a method * is made uſe of, whereby the Branches, due on every article throughout the rates, are expreſſed by letters and figures placed in a column immediately following the rates and duties on each ſpecies of goods.

The manner in which this is conducted, by the means of the following Table and Liſt of Branches, is fully explained and illuſtrated by examples pages 69 and 70.

* Invented by Mr. EDGAR in his Veſtigalium Syſtema, publiſhed in the year 1714.

EXPLANATION of the preceeding TABLE and LIST.

WHatever marginal letter or letters are affixed to any ſpecies of goods throughout the book in the column of references, muſt be ſought for in the firſt column of this Table.

The letter being found in the Table, there will appear oppoſite to it in the columns following, certain numbers:—Theſe numbers point out their reſpective branches, as they are inſerted in the Liſt which immediately follows.

As for example,

I. Suppoſe the particular Branches chargeable on Fans for Corn were deſired to be known.

Upon recourſe to this ſpecies of goods in the firſt compartment, it will be found, that the marginal referring letter affixed thereto, is ——— A.

Oppoſite to which letter, in the aforegoing Table, are the numbers ——— 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

And by the Liſt of the ſeveral Branches it will be found that ———

N° 1	denotes the Old Subſidy	Being the particular branches to which that commodity is liable.
2	New Subſidy
3	One-third Subſidy
4	Two-thirds Subſidy
5	Subſidy 1747

But as the Impoſt 1690 and 1692 contain each a great variety of merchandize, it might from thence be difficult to diſcover under what particular head therein ſpecified, many ſorts of goods are chargeable; that difficulty is therefore obviated by a figure or figures annexed in the column of references, to the marginal letters of any goods liable to either of thoſe Branches, which figures diſtinguiſh the particular articles, in that order in which they ſtand in the reſpective Branch.

II. Suppoſe the ſeveral Branches chargeable on Cordage were deſired to be known.

Upon recourſe to Cordage it will be found, that the marginal letter and figure are ——— B 8.

Oppoſite to the letter B (without regarding the figure 8.) in the aforegoing Table, are the numbers ——— 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 9.

Which by the Liſt of the ſeveral branches as before directed for Fans for Corn, will point out the particular branches to which Cordage is liable; and by the addition of the figure 8 to the letter, it will appear, by conſulting the Branch N° 10. pag. 30. that Cordage is chargeable with the 8th article of Impoſt 1690.

And where there are two numbers annexed to the letter or letters, the firſt has reſpect to the Impoſt 1690, and the latter to the Impoſt 1692, as in the caſe of Wrought ſilks, &c.

EXPLANATION of the TABLES inſerted in the firſt Compartment.

ON examining theſe Tables, the firſt thing that demands attention, is the number of columns contained in any particular page, which will always be more or leſs, in proportion to the variety of branches chargeable on any one ſpecies of merchandize; and as theſe columns exhibit the net duties, drawbacks, &c. in all circumſtances that can ariſe, a competent knowledge of them is extremely neceſſary.—To facilitate this knowledge, I ſhall, previous to explaining the method of uſing the tables, deſcribe the order and connection of the reſpective columns as they ſtand in the work.

WITHIN the firſt column are contained the different ſpecies of merchandize, ranged in an alphabetical ſeries, and according to their reſpective genus's.—The ſecond includes the quantity on which duties are payable to the crown, being ſo contrived as to correſpond to the largeſt entry of goods that can be ſuppoſed.—In the third column are inſerted the original rates of 12 Car. II. or 11 Geo. I. &c. as they happen to refer to any ſpecies of merchandize; and the two ſucceeding columns comprehend the total duties ariſing from the rates, as payable either by Britiſh or ſtrangers.—The ſixth and ſeventh columns exhibit the drawbacks on due exportation, ſhewing at one view, how much of the duties that were paid at importation are allowed to be drawn back, either by Britiſh or ſtrangers, and according as the goods are exported, either to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign part.—And the eighth and laſt column points out particular letters that refer to the table, page 68, which deſcribes all the variety of branches that any ſpecies of merchandize can be chargeable with.

As all the tables contained in this compartment exhibit the computation of duties and drawbacks, according to the moſt common caſes of importation, the inſertion of this eighth and laſt column may ſeem, to a perſon unexperienced in theſe matters, to be altogether needleſs; but will be found, on trial, to be equally advantageous to the merchant and the revenue officer. To the firſt it affords, in conjunction with the rates, an opportunity of diſcovering the juſtneſs and accuracy of any particular computation of duties, and conſequently relieves his mind from any doubt as to the authenticity of the duties payable by him to the crown. To the ſecond it is likewiſe highly ſerviceable, as it enables him to know, with the greateſt preciſion, all the branches that any one particular ſpecies

ſpecies of merchandize is chargeable with; and having a competent knowledge of the peculiar conſtruction of each particular branch, he becomes, in all reſpects, properly qualified for any computation of duties that can ariſe. It muſt be obſerved, that this arrangement of eight columns can only take place, in regard to ſuch ſpecies of merchandize as admit of few variations in relation to the duties chargeable on them, for in other caſes a greater extenſion of columns, or a repetition of the ſame ſpecies of merchandize more than once, are abſolutely neceſſary: But theſe will require no particular explanation, as a proper attention to what has been already laid down, will be fully ſufficient.

HAVING explained the nature and conſtruction of the tables, I ſhall proceed to deſcribe the method of uſing them, ſo as to find out, with the greateſt readineſs, the net duties and drawbacks on any ſpecies of merchandize; and as things of this nature cannot be made too plain, it will be proper, in purſuance of ſuch a deſign, to conſider all theſe ſpecies under three heads. The firſt may comprehend all thoſe ſpecies of merchandize which are only chargeable with ſuch duties as ariſe ſimply and properly from the original rates, without the impoſition of any additional duty, on account of manufacture, &c.—The ſecond may contain ſuch ſpecies of merchandize as, beſides the duties reſulting from the original rates, are chargeable over and above with certain additional duties on account of manufacture, and in regard to their nature and value with reſpect to trade and commerce.—In order to aſcertain, with the greateſt ſecurity, what ſpecies of goods belong to this arrangement, it muſt be obſerved, that a particular figure is placed at the ſide of each of theſe ſpecies, which figure not only denotes that ſuch article is chargeable with an additional duty or duties, but even refers to a table exhibiting the additional duty or duties, under all circumſtances that can ariſe.—Under the third and laſt head may be compriſed, thoſe particular ſpecies of merchandize which require, either a great extenſion of columns, or a repetition of the ſame ſpecies of merchandize more than once, for deſcribing the various duties payable to the crown.

As all the ſpecies of goods imported into Great-Britain, except * Tobacco, Wines, Vinegar, &c. may, with the greateſt propriety, be claſſed under one or other of the above arrangements, there needs nothing more for pointing out the manner of uſing the tables, than the inſertion of a few examples ſelected from each arrangement.

SUPPOSE it was required to find out the net duties and drawbacks on any ſpecies of goods belonging to the firſt arrangement, in ſuch a caſe the following examples may ſuffice:—1*ſt*, A merchant imports 20,500 lb. of Pot or Pearl aſhes, which pay duty by the barrel, containing 200 lb.—On inſpecting page 81, this ſpecies of goods will be found in the firſt column; and by the rule juſt mentioned, the quantity imported makes exactly 102 barrels and an half:—By inſpecting the ſecond column, there will be found in the ſecond line 100 barrels; and oppoſite thereto in the two columns next to the rate, are the correſponding duties payable either by Britiſh or ſtrangers, according to the particular circumſtances of importation:—And on recourſe in the ſame manner to the tenth and twelfth lines of the ſame column, the duties on the two barrels and one half are eaſily found out, and by adding theſe ſums together, the whole duties chargeable on the 20,500 lb. of Pot aſhes above mentioned, appear with equal readineſs and accuracy.—Should the whole, or any part of theſe Aſhes, be exported within the time limited by law, the drawback may be found out in the ſame manner, regard being had to thoſe particular columns.—2*dly*, Suppoſe an entry ſhould be made of 320 Cwt. 2 qrs. 7 lb. of Elephants teeth, look for page 188, where this ſpecies of goods is inſerted; and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column will be found 300 Cwt. the correſponding duties to which, as payable either by Britiſh or ſtrangers, are known by the ſame method as laid down in the firſt example.—The duties on 300 Cwt. being thus found out, it only remains to find thoſe on 20 Cwt. 2 qrs. 7 lb. which, on conſidering the ſixth, thirteenth and laſt lines of the columns of duties, appear at the firſt view; and by uniting all theſe ſums into one, the total duties payable at importation, or, on conſulting the proper columns, the net drawback repayable on due exportation are found with the greateſt readineſs:—By the ſame method, any other entry of the ſame ſpecies of goods, on any quantity that can ariſe, may be eaſily found out, and the net duties and drawbacks calculated with accuracy and diſpatch.—With a ſmall degree of attention to the method juſt pointed out, the net duties and drawbacks on any ſpecies of goods that pay duty by the hundred weight, may always be found out, ſo that it is needleſs to particularize any more goods of this kind, as a deſcription of any ſpecies of goods rated after a particular manner, will always correſpond to the ſame rated method, howſoever the goods themſelves may be diſperſed in point of arrangement.—3*dly*, It may ſo happen, that an entry ſhall ariſe of ſome ſome ſpecies of goods which pay duty by the pound; as, for inſtance, Camels hair, where-of there may be an importation of about 3625 lb.—To inveſtigate the duties and draw-backs on this particular quantity, turn to page 221; the firſt column of which repreſents the ſpecies of goods, and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column will be found 3000 lb. oppoſite to which in the columns of duties are inſerted the total net duties payable on ſuch a quantity, according to the particular circumſtances of importation.—In the fifth line of the ſecond column are 300 lb. which being doubled, produces 600 lb. the quantity ſought for: And in the ninth and eleventh lines are 20 lb. and 5 lb. the correſponding duties to which quantities are eaſily found, by the method before mentioned:—By adding theſe detached numbers of pounds together, they will be exactly 3625 lb. the quantity imported; and by purſuing the ſame rule with regard to the columns of duties, they appear with equal eaſe and ſatisfaction.

* The excluſion of theſe articles from any of the three arrangements, is owing to their being comprehended in a particular compartment by themſelves.

HAVING ſufficiently explained the method of uſing the Tables, in regard to ſuch ſpecies of goods as come under the firſt arrangement, I ſhall now conſider how to find out the net duties and drawbacks on thoſe which fall within the ſecond arrangement.—The goods belonging to this claſs, are thoſe that, beſides the duties reſulting from the original rates, are chargeable over and above with certain additional duties on account of manufacture, and in regard to their nature and value with reſpect to trade and commerce; and on this very account, it is more difficult to calculate the duties payable to the crown on ſuch ſpecies of merchandize, than on thoſe contained in the firſt arrangement; for, after having found out the rated duties, there is a neceſſity, before the computation can be finiſhed, of calculating the additional duties which by law are directed to be added to them; and this, in regard to the niceneſs of the operation, is ſometimes very perplexing:—A good deal of attention is therefore neceſſary, in finding out the duties and drawbacks on goods contained in this ſecond arrangement.—The following examples will very much contribute to illuſtrate this point.

SUPPOSE 3310 Awl-blades ſhould be imported:—On recourſe to page 82, on the ſide of this ſpecies, ſtands the figure (1.) denoting, that a certain additional duty is to be added to thoſe ariſing from the rates.—In the ſecond line of the ſecond column will be found 3000 Awl-blades, and oppoſite thereto the correſponding duties reſulting from the rate, according to the different circumſtances of importation.—In the ſixth line of the ſecond column are 300, and in the laſt line of the ſame are 10 Awl-blades, the rated duties on which quantities are found as juſt mentioned.—By adding theſe different numbers together, they exactly tally with the quantity imported; and the ſeveral detachments of duties united into one ſum, will exhibit the total rated duties payable on the above quantity.—It muſt, however, be conſidered, that theſe rated duties are below the real value of the goods, and conſequently, if they paid no more, ſuch importations would very much interfere with, if not entirely deſtroy, our own manufactures, as foreigners would thereby be enabled to ſupply us with ſuch articles, at a cheaper rate than we could manufacture them ourſelves.—To prevent ſuch inconveniencies, the legiſlature hath wiſely annexed certain additional duties to the rated ones, which added to the expence of freight, &c. makes thoſe ſpecies of goods turn out to be very little, if any thing cheaper than what can be purchaſed at home.—In the caſe before us, beſides the rated duties, the Awl-blades are chargeable with 5 s. for every hundred weight of iron they may weigh, with a diſcount of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. for prompt payment:—And as it is impoſſible to aſcertain the weight of theſe blades before they are brought to the ſcale, as ſome blades may differ from others, both in length, breadth and thickneſs, ſo, in order to provide for the ready calculation of this duty, a Table, marked with figure N° (1.) is placed at page 387, wherein this net duty is computed from 200 Cwt. down to 1 lb.—On the ſuppoſition, therefore, that the 3310 Awl-blades may weigh 6 Cwt. 1 qr. 21 lb. look in the above-mentioned Table, and in the eighth line of the firſt column will be found 3 Cwt. which being doubled, produces 6 Cwt. and in the thirteenth line is 1 qr. in the fourteenth line is 14 lb. and in the fifteenth line is 7 lb. and by adding theſe numbers together, the above quantity of 6 Cwt. 1 qr. 21 lb. appears; and oppoſite to the reſpective lines is the additional duty wanted:—When this duty is added to the rated duties before mentioned, then all the duties chargeable upon Awl-blades at importation, are found out; and by purſuing the ſame method in regard to the drawback, it will eaſily appear what duties are drawn back, whether the Awl-blades ſhould be exported to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign part.—Inſtead of Awl-blades, a merchant may import from the Levant 123 Cotton carpets of China, which, beſides the rated duties, pay 2 s. $10\frac{4}{20}$ d. for every 20 s. value of the groſs price at the candle.—In finding out, therefore, the total net duties on this and ſuch ſpecies of goods, there are two points to be conſidered: 1*ſt*, To find out the rated duties; and 2*dly*, to find out thoſe ariſing from the groſs price at the candle.—The firſt of theſe points may be accompliſhed by looking for page 101, in the firſt column of which this ſpecies of goods is inſerted; and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column are 100 Carpets; oppoſite to which, in the proper columns, are the net rated duties, according to the particular circumſtances of importation; and in the fifth line of the ſecond column are 20 Carpets, and in the eighth line of the ſame column are 3 Carpets; the rated duties on which are found in the ſame manner as for the 100 Carpets.—The ſecond point may be obtained, by having recourſe to the Table referred to, marked N° (7.) and placed at page 388, where this net duty is calculated from 1000 l. to 6 d.—Whatever value theſe Carpets may produce at the candle, the duty ariſing therefrom will eaſily appear on conſulting the Table:—By adding this duty to the rated ones, the total net duties payable on the importation of the Carpets will eaſily appear.—A third example for illuſtrating the method of finding out the net duties on ſuch ſpecies of goods, as belong to the ſecond arrangement, may be brought from Skins:—Suppoſe an importation of 218 Skins, called Buck or Deer ſkins, dreſſed:—Theſe, like the Cotton carpets, pay certain duties ariſing from the rates; and on account of their being dreſſed, &c. are moreover chargeable with a duty of 30 per cent. for their value on oath.—To find out the rated duties, look for page 308; in the firſt column of which theſe Skins are inſerted; and in the third line of the ſecond column are 100 Skins, which being doubled, produces 200 Skins; and in the ſeventh line of the ſame column are 10 Skins, in the eighth line are 5, and in the ninth line are 3 Skins, which ſeveral numbers added together, make exactly 218 Skins; and oppoſite to theſe ſeveral reſpective lines, are the proper correſponding duties, according to the particular circumſtances of importation.—The rated duties being thus found, the additional ones of 30 per cent. will appear, on having recourſe to a Table marked N° (13.) and placed at page 389, where this duty of 30 per cent. is calculated from 1000 ℔. to 1 ℔.—The drawback on a due exportation of the Skins may be found out, by purſuing the ſame method as was done for the duties, regard being had to the proper columns.—The fourth and laſt example, with reſpect to goods coming under the ſecond arrangement, may be furniſhed from thoſe ſpecies of goods called Hides, which exhibit ſeveral variations in regard to the duties:—Cow Hides of Barbary and Muſcovia will illuſtrate this point, as having no leſs than four diſtinct variations, of which in their order.—By uniting to the rated duties of the ſecond diſtinction the additional one required by law, the two firſt variations follow one another in a regular ſucceſſion, without diſturbing the eſtabliſhed plan of rated duties, by the addition of any marginal figures in the firſt column.—An entry may be made of 432 of theſe Hides, and they may either be in the hair or tawed; if in the hair, which is the firſt diſtinction, turn to page 225, in the firſt column whereof theſe goods will be found; and in the third line of the ſecond column are 300 Hides, and in the fourth line 100 Hides, which added together, make 400 Hides; in the ſixth line of the ſame column are 30, and in the eleventh line 2 Hides, which ſeveral numbers added together make 432 Hides, the number entered.—Having found the number of Hides, conſider, before the duties are ſearched for, whether they may be tawed or not; if they are not tawed, tanned, nor dreſſed in oil, then, in the columns of the duties oppoſite to the reſpective numbers before mentioned, will be found the proper rated duties, according to the particular circumſtances of importation.—If theſe Hides are not in the hair, but tawed, which is the ſecond diſtinction, then, on conſulting the ſame columns, &c. as was recommended for thoſe in the hair, at page 226, the proper correſponding duties will appear in regard to this particular circumſtance of the Hides being tawed, and conſiſting only of 3 s. 6 d. on each Hide added to the rated duties.—By carefully attending to theſe diſtinctions, the proper drawbacks will eaſily appear, whether the Hides ſhould have been tawed or only in the hair.—The third variation, in reſpect of the duties chargeable on them, proceeds on the ſuppoſition, that the Cow hides of Barbary and Muſcovia, before mentioned, may be dreſſed in oil, on which account they will be liable to an additional duty of 7 d. for every pound weight.—The duties may be calculated thus:—On recourſe to page 225, where the columns of duties reſpecting theſe Hides, as being in the hair, are inſerted, the rated duties will be the ſame as there deſcribed; and on the ſide of theſe Hides are the figures (8) or (9), the firſt of which regards the circumſtance of the Hides being dreſſed in oil, and refers to a Table marked with this figure, and placed at page 388, where this additional duty of 7 d. per pound weight may be found, for any number of pounds they may weigh, the duty being calculated from 1000 ℔. weight down to 1 ℔.—The fourth and laſt variation reſpecting this ſpecies of goods, regards the particular circumſtance of the Hides being tanned: and as the rated duties, even in this inſtance, will be the ſame as before, the only addition for compleating the duties chargeable on the Hides, will be the duty of $3\frac{1}{2}$ d. ariſing from their being tanned, which is pointed out by the figure (9.) on the ſide of the Hides:—The calculation of which duty is amply provided for, by a Table marked with this figure, and placed at page 388.

THE manner of finding out, and calculating the duties on any ſpecies of goods appertaining to the firſt and ſecond arrangements, having been particularly explained and exemplified, it only remains, to deſcribe thoſe which belong to the third and laſt arrangement, as requiring either a great extenſion of columns, or a repetition of the ſame ſpecies more than once, for pointing out the duties which ſuch goods pay to the crown.—As the firſt and ſecond arrangements were explained by the inſertion of proper examples, ſo this method will be found beſt adapted for explaining the third and laſt arrangement; and as the ſpecies of goods which fall under this claſs are not numerous, a few examples will ſuffice.—Suppoſe an importation of 150 barrels of ſpruce beer from Dantzick:—In ſearching for the duties on this ſpecies of goods, it muſt be obſerved, that, beſides thoſe which ariſe from the cuſtoms, an exciſe at the rate of 15 s. for every barrel, containing 32 gallons, is alſo chargeable.—The eaſieſt method of finding out the ſeveral duties will be, to fix thoſe which belong to the cuſtoms firſt; and for this purpoſe, turn to page 86, where this ſpecies of goods is inſerted, and in the firſt line of the ſecond column you will find 100 barrels; in the fifth and ſixth columns will be found the correſponding duties ariſing to the Cuſtoms, as payable either by Britiſh or ſtrangers, according to the particular circumſtances of importation; in the ſecond line of the ſecond column are 50 barrels, the cuſtomable duties on which may be found in the ſame manner as for the 100 barrels; and theſe different ſums united together, will ſhew the whole cuſtomable duties chargeable on the 150 barrels.—The duties appertaining to the Cuſtoms being found, the Exciſe will alſo appear, on looking into the ſeventh or eighth columns; the firſt line of which, being oppoſite to the 100 barrels contained in the ſecond column, will exhibit the duty chargeable on them, and the ſecond line, in the columns juſt mentioned, will point out the Exciſe belonging to the 50 barrels; theſe ſums added together, ſhew the whole Exciſe payable on the Beer; and by uniting it to the cuſtomable duties above mentioned, the entire ſum payable to the crown on the importation of the Spruce beer is eaſily ſeen:—Should the Beer be exported, conſult the ninth or tenth columns, in the ſame manner as was done for the fifth and ſixth columns on importation, and the drawback will appear with the greateſt readineſs, whether the Beer may be exported to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign parts.—Inſtead of Spruce beer, a merchant may import 318 Cwt. 2 qrs. 7 lb. of Coffee of the Britiſh plantations in America, or perhaps of the French plantations:—To inveſtigate the duties on this commodity in a proper manner, as they chance to ariſe, the reſpective columns muſt be attentively conſidered; and when the reader begins to have a notion of their arrangement, let him ſearch for the duties thus:—On recourſe to page 107, where this article ſtands, the firſt column repreſents the ſpecies, and the ſecond exhibits a quantity, from 200 Cwt. down to 1 lb.—The four ſucceeding columns deſcribe the duties as payable either by Britiſh or ſtrangers, and according as the Coffee ſhould be imported, either from a French plantation, or from the Britiſh colonies in America, &c.—The ſeventh, eighth, ninth and tenth columns, repreſent the inland or exciſeable duty chargeable on the Coffee when conſumed in Great-Britain:—The eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth columns contain the drawback, according to the particular circumſtances of importation, and alſo as the Coffee may be exported, either to any Britiſh colony in America, or to any foreign part:—The fifteenth and laſt column points out, by means of the referring letters, the particular branches with which Coffee is chargeable.—This ſhort deſcription will aſſiſt the reader in attaining to a proper notion of the variety of columns requiſite for deſcribing the duties, &c. not only on this article, but alſo on all others that require ſuch an extenſion of columns. The duties on the above 318 Cwt. 2 qrs. 7 lb. of Coffee may be found as follows:—On recourſe to the ſecond column, there appears in the firſt line 200 Cwt. the correſponding duties on which ariſing to the Cuſtoms, will be found in the proper columns, according to the particular circumſtances of importation:—The ſecond line of the ſecond column contains 100 Cwt. the duties on which may be got as before:—On conſulting the ſixth line of the ſecond column, there appears 10 Cwt. in the ſeventh line 5 Cwt. and in the eighth line 3 Cwt. the correſponding cuſtomable duties on which may be found in the ſame manner as was done for the 200 Cwt.—Having thus found the duties on 318 Cwt. it only remains to find thoſe on 2 qrs. and 7 lb. which, on conſulting the twelfth and fifteenth lines of the proper columns, will appear with equal eaſe and ſatisfaction:—By uniting the ſeveral quantities before deſcribed, they will make exactly 318 Cwt. 2 qrs. 7 lb. the quantity imported; and by adding the ſeveral detachments of duties together, they will ſhew the aggregate ſum payable for the cuſtoms on the Coffee.—If the Coffee ſhould be intended for home-conſumption, it is alſo liable to the exciſe or inland duty, which may be found as follows:—Purſue the ſame method as was firſt made uſe of in finding out the ſeveral quantities of the Coffee; and oppoſite to them, in the ſeventh, eighth, ninth and tenth columns, will be found the proper exciſe duty, according to the particular circumſtances of importation:—Inſtead of being conſumed in Great-Britain, the Coffee may be exported to foreign parts; and when this happens, drawback or repayment of ſo much of the cuſtomable duties as the law allows, muſt be paid to the merchant:—By inſpecting the ſecond column, the quantities of Coffee may be found, in the manner laid down for finding out the duties payable on importation; and oppoſite to theſe reſpective quantities, in the eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth columns, will be found the net drawback, according to the particular circumſtances of importation, and as the Coffee may be exported, either to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign part.—The laſt example, in regard to goods that require either a great extenſion of columns, or a repetition of the ſame ſpecies more than once, for deſcribing the duties payable to the crown, may be furniſhed from Linens:—Of this ſpecies of goods, a merchant may import 527 ells, called Flanders Holland cloth:—As ſeveral ſpecies of Linens are chargeable with different duties, with reſpect to their different breadths, by the addition of a certain ſum, according to their rate or value; it muſt be carefully obſerved, that theſe certain ſums, as contained under Branch N° 10, after deducting the proper diſcounts, are added to, and included in the ſimple rated duties, in order to compoſe the whole duties ariſing to the crown:—Suppoſing, then, the above mentioned quantity of Linen to be under $1\frac{1}{8}$ ell Engliſh in breadth, in ſuch a caſe no more than the ſimple rated duties are chargeable, which may be found out thus:—On recourſe to page 247, the Linen will appear in the firſt column, and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column will be found 500 ells; in the ſeventh line of the ſame column are 20 ells, in the ninth line 5 ells, and in the eleventh line 2 ells:—By uniting the different quantities together, they make preciſely 527 ells, the quantity imported; and by purſuing the ſame method with the columns of duties, the total ſum payable to the crown on the linen eaſily appears.—If this linen ſhould be exported, the proper drawback may be found, by ſearching for the quantities as above laid down; and oppoſite to them, in the ſixth and ſeventh columns, will appear the drawback, according as the linen may be exported, either to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign part.—If the above 527 ells of Holland cloth ſhould be above $1\frac{1}{8}$ ell Engliſh in breadth, and under two ells, it then becomes liable to a certain ſum of 9 d. for every 20 s. of the rate or value impoſed on ſuch Linen, as deſcribed in Branch N° 10.—This duty being added to, and included in the ſimple rated duties, the reader will be able, on turning to page 248, to find out the whole duties ariſing to the crown, by uſing the ſame method as was before mentioned, which may alſo ſerve as a rule for ſearching out the drawback due on exportation.—Suppoſe the 527 ells of Holland cloth ſhould be of the breadth of two ells and upwards, and under three ells, this circumſtance occaſions its being liable to 1 s. 6 d. for every 20 s. of the rate or value, as expreſſed in Branch N° 10. over and above the ſimple rated duties.—The directions given for finding out the duties, on the ſuppoſition that the Flanders Holland cloth did not exceed $1\frac{1}{8}$ ell Engliſh in breadth, are equally ſerviceable in this caſe; ſo that by their aſſiſtance, and turning to page 248, the aggregate duties accruing to the crown will eaſily appear, as the duty of 1 s. 6 d. after deducing the proper diſcounts, is added to, and included in the columns repreſenting the duties payable on Flanders Holland cloth of the above breadth:—It may, however, happen, and ſometimes does, that this ſpecies of cloth ſhall be of the breadth of three ells or upwards, and in this caſe the linen becomes liable to the higheſt duty, as mentioned in Branch N° 10. being 4 s. 6 d. for every 20 s. of the rate or value:—In an occurrence of this kind, look for page 248, where Flanders Holland cloth of this breadth is inſerted, from 1000 ells to 1 ell:—This duty of 4 s. 6 d. being, like the others before mentioned, added to, and included in, the duties ariſing ſimply from the rate, the reader need only obſerve the method laid down for finding out the duties, when the cloth was ſuppoſed to be not above $1\frac{1}{8}$ ell Engliſh in breadth, becauſe a proper attention to this method will, in the preſent caſe, point out the whole duties ariſing to the crown, when the Linen cloth is of the greateſt breadth.—The proper drawback due on exportation, whether to the Britiſh colonies in America, or to any foreign part, will eaſily appear, regard being had to theſe columns.

BEFORE we diſmiſs this ſubject, it will be highly proper to give ſome deſcription of the conſtruction of the columns, with reſpect to the ſeveral ſpecies of Wood, and to thoſe goods which pay duty ad valorem, becauſe the arrangements reſpecting either the one or the other, differ from thoſe made uſe of by former authors.

THE columns made choice of for the Wood, are deſigned to repreſent the duties ariſing therefrom, according to all the diſtinctions and differences which can poſſibly ariſe, whether imported from any part of Europe, Aſia, Africa or America, and are conſtructed after the following manner.—The firſt column repreſents the ſeveral ſpecies of Wood, ranged in an alphabetical progreſſion; the ſecond contains ſuch a quantity as is ſuppoſed to amount to what is moſt commonly compriſed in any one ſingle entry; the third column exhibits the rates, either of 12 Car. II. or 11 Geo. I. as they happen to refer; and the four ſucceeding columns contain the duties payable at importation, according to the particular circumſtances thereof, and with reſpect to the Wood being either of the produce of any part of Europe, except Ireland or France, or of the produce of Ireland, and all other places, except France, or any French colony or plantation; the two next columns ſhew the proper drawback to be repaid on a due exportation, according as the Wood may be of the particular produce of any one place in preference to another; the laſt column regards, as uſual, the table of references.—There being no other difference in the manner of finding out the duties on Wood, and thoſe articles mentioned at the beginning of this explanation, than what neceſſarily ariſes from the difference of columns, repreſenting the duties payable by them: Two examples may ſuffice to illuſtrate this point:—Suppoſe a merchant ſhould import 428 loads of Beech planks, above two inches thick, of the produce of any part of Europe, except Ireland and France.—On inſpecting page 353, this denomination of Wood appears; and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column are 300 loads, in the third line of the ſame column are 100 loads; in the ſixth line are 20 loads, and in the eighth and ninth lines of the ſame column are 5 and 3 loads; theſe ſeveral quantities united together make 428 loads, the quantity imported; and by purſuing the ſame method with regard to the columns of duties, reſpect being had to the proper lines, they appear with accuracy and diſpatch.—This method of finding out the duties, will be equally applicable to the Wood, being of the produce of Ireland, &c. provided ſufficient regard is had to thoſe columns:—Inſtead of any ſpecies of Wood which pays duty by the load, there may be an importation of 1680 C. 3 qrs. 18 ſingle Norway Deals, the duties on which are payable by the long hundred:—On recourſe to page 361, the reader will find this ſpecies of Wood inſerted in the firſt column; and in the firſt line of the ſecond column are 1000 C. in the third line are 300 C. which being doubled produces 600 C. in the fifth line are 50 C. and in the ſixth line are 30 C.—In the thirteenth line are 3 qrs. in the ſixteenth line are 15 ſingle Deals, and in the nineteenth line are 3 ſingle Deals; all theſe ſeveral quantities added together produce 1680 C. 3 qrs. 18 ſingle Deals, being exactly the number imported; and oppoſite to theſe reſpective lines, in the columns of duties, will appear the proper rated duties, according as the Wood may be of the produce of any particular country.—By the ſame method the drawback on due exportation will eaſily appear, regard being had to thoſe columns.—The reader will pleaſe to obſerve particularly, that in the column of references on Wood, there are two letters annexed to each ſpecies:—When they are A. and B. the firſt refers to Wood being the produce of Ireland, and the other its being the produce of any part of Europe, except Ireland and France; the ſame remark is equally applicable where the letters C. and B. occur.—It muſt likewiſe be obſerved, that, to facilitate the publication of the book, all the large fractional parts, except the radical one, are cut off from the beginning of the letter W. to the end of the firſt compartment; but the real twentieth parts are preſerved entire, by which means nothing of any real value is loſt:—In ſeveral places of this compartment, the column of drawbacks to the Britiſh colonies are left blank; and when this happens, it generally ariſes from a ſuppoſition, that thoſe ſpecies of goods are not wanted at an American market.

THE conſtruction of the columns, with reſpect to goods that pay duty ad valorem, is the laſt thing that requires attention in this compartment; and, in order to maintain uniformity as much as poſſible throughout the book, theſe columns have no eſſential difference from thoſe made uſe of at the beginning of the book, except that the third column, inſtead of containing, as uſual, the reſpective rates of 12 Car. II. or 11 Geo. I. as they happen to refer, does contain the reſpective values as they are given upon oath, from 1000 l. down to 6 d.—This uniformity in the columns, obviates any explication of the manner of finding out the net duties and drawbacks ariſing from the value given upon oath, as being, in all reſpects, ſimilar with the deſcriptions already laid down in the former part of this explanation.

Books bound, by 9 Geo. I. cap. 19. § 6, 7, 8. in lieu of all former duties payable ad valorem, thereby repealed, are to pay for every hundred weight 14 s. whether imported by Britiſh or by Strangers.

And the duties ariſing thereon are to be appropriated, as near as may be, to the ſame uſes and purpoſes, to which the former duties on books were applicable.——Agreeably to this intention, feigned or imaginary rates or values have been contriv'd, which being charged with the ſeveral branches, agreeable to the various circumſtances of importation and entry, will produce the proper net duties.—To which is to be added the ſubſidy 1747, which is computed (practically) at 5 per cent. on the higheſt reſpective feigned rates.—The feigned rates are below.

N. B. The different and respective rates affixed to each species of Corn, as a foundation for raising the duties payable to the Crown, were, under certain circumstances of entry and importation, altered by the 22 Car. II. cap. 13. so far as regards the Old Subsidy; on which branch the regulation stands thus:

	Old Subsidy. £.	s.	d.
Beans not exceeding 40 s. per quarter, is per quarter	0	16	0
Barley not exceeding 32 s. per quarter, is per quarter	0	16	0
Oats not exceeding 16 s. per quarter, is per quarter	0	5	4
Peaſe not exceeding 40 s. per quarter, is per quarter	0	16	0
Rye not exceeding 40 s. per quarter, is per quarter	0	16	0
Wheat not exceeding 2 l. 13 s. 4 d. per quarter, is per quarter	0	16	0
Wheat exceeding 2 l. 13 s. 4 d. per quarter, is per quarter	0	8	0

In attempting therefore to calculate the duties on theſe ſpecies of Corn, it muſt be obſerved, that the Old Subſidy is to be computed according to the above ſums when the Corn is ſold at the prices affixed to each ſpecies, without allowing any diſcount: But the New Subſidy, and all the other ſucceeding branches, muſt be calculated according to the original rates as eſtabliſhed by 12 Car. II. cap. 4.

N. B. The above mentioned Drugs for Dyers uſe, as by 3 and 4 Ann. cap. 4. are, by 8 Geo. I. cap. 15. § 10. if regularly imported, entered, and landed, free of all duties.

As it was impoſſible to diſtinguiſh, in every inſtance, what Drugs were chiefly of the growth of Europe, and what were the growth of Aſia or America, it was thought highly proper to inſert, for moſt of the Drugs, columns for the Drawbacks to the Britiſh Colonies: But to prevent any inconveniencies, reſulting from this arrangement, either to the revenue or the merchant, a ſtrict attention muſt be paid, at all times, to the circumſtances of an importation; becauſe, if the Drugs are of the growth of Europe or the Eaſt Indies, they then draw back, if exported to the Colonies, no more than are contained in thoſe columns; but if of the growth of Aſia or Africa, they muſt draw back the ſums contained in the column To all legal places, whether exported to the Colonies or not. Vide Act 4. Geo. III. cap. 15.

By 8 and 9 Will. III. cap. 34. § 2 and 3. the Old Subſidy to be received for all Drugs (rated in the firſt column) imported directly from the place of their growth, and in Britiſh built ſhipping, ſhall be according to the full value in the Book of rates; and for all Drugs, otherwiſe imported, treble ſuch value; but not to extend to Drugs uſed in dying.

The foregoing duties on rated drugs are computed as in caſes of uſual and general importations; but as they may ſometimes happen to be imported under other particular circumſtances, it is to be obſerved,

That if any ſuch rated Drugs are of the growth of France, in ſuch caſe, inſtead of the Impoſt 1690 at ten per cent. or the Impoſt 1692 at five per cent. of the rate, there muſt be charged the Impoſt 1698 at twenty-five per cent. on the rate, and alſo the ſecond twenty-five per cent. on the rate laid on by 7 and 8 Will. cap. 20.

And if any ſuch rated Drugs are of the growth of any other French dominions, in ſuch caſe, inſtead of the Impoſt 1690 at ten per cent. on the rate, or the Impoſt 1692 at five per cent. on the rate, there muſt be charged the Impoſt 1692 at twenty-five per cent. on the rate.

And if any ſuch rated Drugs are of the manufacture of India or China, in ſuch caſe, inſtead of the Impoſt 1690 at ten per cent. on the rate, or the Impoſt 1692 at five per cent. on the rate, there muſt be charged the Impoſt 1692 at twenty per cent. on the rate.

Note, that all Drugs of the growth and product of America, imported from any of the Britiſh plantations in America in ſhips legally navigated, are to pay duty as if imported directly from the place of their growth. 7 Ann. cap. 8. § 12.

Note alſo, that the difference in the duties of Drugs, imported from places of their growth, and imported from places not of their growth, relates principally to Drugs of the growth of one part of Europe imported from ſome other part of Europe, and doth not imply, that Drugs of the growth of Africa, Aſia, or America, can be brought from any part of Europe, on payment of the high duties, as imported from places not of their growth; for ſuch importations would be contrary to the Act of Navigation of 12 Car. II. cap. 18. § 4. except in the caſes No. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, under the title of Goods inwards, in the Abſtract of the Laws.

The alterations and amendments that have been made by the several acts of parliament, in regard to the importation of Provisions from Ireland, and to the duties chargeable on them, ought to be well known, and therefore a detail of these circumstances will come in here with sufficient propriety.

By the act 31 Geo. II. cap 28. was allowed for six months, on supposal of the advantages resulting thereby to Great Britain, the importation of Salt Beef, Pork, and Butter, without being subject to any penalties or forfeitures, or other duties, than 1 s. 3 d. per Cwt. of Beef or Pork, and 4 d. per Cwt. of Butter. — These duties were payable into the Exchequer, as part of the duties laid on Salt, by the act 5 Geo II. — If these goods were landed before payment of the duties, they were forfeited, together with 20 s. for every barrel, one moiety to the king, the other to the informer, &c. — And if these provisions were exported again, no bounty was allowed thereon. — By the act 32 Geo. II. cap. 1. the liberty to import the above provisions was extended to 24th December 1759. — All the powers and regulations mentioned in the above act were continued by this; and as doubts had arisen, whether all kinds of Salted Pork, or other Hog meat, might be imported in virtue of the first act, the second section of this act declared they might. — The duties laid on by the first act having been found inadequate to the duty of the Salt necessarily used and consumed in curing and salting the Provisions, they were, by the third section of this act, extended as follows, viz. Beef or Pork if in pickle, to pay 3 s 4 d. per barrel.—If dried 1 s. 3 d per Cwt.

By the act 33 Geo II. cap. 5. no alterations were made in regard to former regulations; but the importation of provisions from Ireland, on payment of the proper duties, was extended to the 24th Dec. 1760. — And by the act 1 Geo. III. cap. 4 was further extended to the 24th Dec. 1761.

By the 2 Geo. III. cap. 6. the importation of Provisions from Ireland, which, by former acts, was open to every trader, was, by this act, confined to the supply of his Majesty's ships, transports, and other ships and vessels in his Majesty's immediate service and pay. — These provisions were to be imported, duty free, provided they were deposited in the King's store houses, applied properly, and that accounts of their application were kept. — If any of the Provisions were deemed unserviceable, the commissioners of his Majesty's navy might authorise a person to dispose of the same, such person granting a certificate or certificates to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, expressing the nature and quantity of the Provisions sold, the marks of the casks or other packages, with the time of selling it.—Such certificate or certificates to indemnify the purchaser or purchasers from all penalties, forfeitures, and punishments, on account of such Provisions so purchased by them. — By the last section, the above act was extended to the 24th Dec. 1762.

The act 4 Geo. III. cap. 28 after taking notice of the extraordinary price of Provisions, and the inconveniencies thereby resulting, not only to the poor people, but even to the trade and manufactures of the kingdom, authorises his Majesty, with the advice of his Privy Council, during the next recess of parliament, from time to time, to permit the free importation of Provisions from Ireland, when needful and convenient, and as the necessity of the times may require. — All the regulations required by the act 32 Geo. II. cap. 1. with respect to the duties, &c. of the Provisions, were renewed by this act — That no order shall extend to authorise the importation of the Provisions, but under the following restrictions, viz.

Beef, not unless the best Ox Beef, in Smithfield market, shall exceed 3 d. per pound for the four quarters. — Beef, not unless the price of the best pieces of such Beef shall exceed 4 d. per pound at Leadenhall market. — Pork and Bacon, not unless the price of best Pork shall exceed 4 d. per pound, and the best Bacon 7 d. per pound. — Butter, not unless the best Butter shall exceed 9 d. per pound at Leadenhall market.

By the act 5 Geo. III. cap. 1., the importation of Provisions from Ireland was again allowed to all persons who might incline to deal in such articles, subject to the same duties, regulations, and forfeitures as mentioned in the act 32 Geo. II. c. 1.—No drawback to be allowed on the exportation of the Provisions. — This act to continue in force for twelve months from the passing thereof. — Penalties and forfeitures, incurred by this act, to be divided one moiety to the King, his heirs and successors, and the other moiety to the person or persons who shall sue for the same, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majesty's courts of record at Westminster, or in the court of Exchequer in Scotland, &c. — Persons against whom any action is commenced for any thing done in pursuance of this act, the defendant or defendants may plead the general issue, and give this act, and the special matter in evidence, at any trial to be had thereupon; and upon judgment being given for the defendant or defendants, he or they may recover treble costs, and have the like remedy for the same as any defendant or defendants hath or have in other cases by law. — The duties payable on these Provisions are on the following page.

Pictures, by 8 Geo. I. cap. 20. §. 49, 50, 51. and 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. §. 12. in lieu of all former duties payable ad valorem, thereby repealed, are chargeable with a duty certain, in one entire ſum, according to their ſeveral reſpective dimenſions, which are particularly deſcribed on the ſucceeding page.

And, by the 11 Geo. To which is to be added the Subſidy 1747, which is computed (practically) at five per cent. on the higheſt reſpective feigned rates.—The feigned rates are below.

AS it would have been needleſs, in compiling this work, to multiply columns without an apparent neceſſity, and as the duty of one per cent. inwards, deſcribed at page 15, is only chargeable on ſuch goods and merchandizes (liable to Cuſtoms) as are imported from any port or place of the Mediterranean ſea beyond the port of Malaga, it was apprehended, that the following Table, which exhibits the duty of one per cent. inwards, from 100 l. ſterling to one penny, would be equally ſerviceable, being ſo contrived as to repreſent, either the net Old ſubſidy by itſelf, or the net additional duty along with it.

Though the uſe of this Table will be obvious enough to any officer of his Majeſty's Revenue, who is tolerably acquainted with computations, yet to merchants, and others, who are not ſo well verſed in the methods of finding out the net Subſidies, the Table may have ſome appearance of obſcurity: I ſhall, therefore, by way of illuſtration, ſet down a few examples of the manner of finding out, either the net Old Subſidy by itſelf, or the net Additional Duty along with it, ſo far as regards the importation of goods from any port or place of the Mediterranean ſea, beyond the port of Malaga.

Example the firſt.

	£.	s.	d.	20ths.
16 Cwt. of hard Sope—Amount of the rate on which, at 3 l. the Cwt. makes	48	0	0	0
Groſs Old Subſidy, at five per cent. is	2	8	0	0
Diſcount at five per cent. is	0	2	4	16
Net Old Subſidy	2	5	7	4
One fifth part of which ſum makes the duty of one per cent. inwards, being	0	9	1	$8\frac{4}{5}$
Total duty ariſing from theſe Branches	2	14	8	$12\frac{4}{5}$

This duty of one per cent. inwards, ariſing from the net Old Subſidy, will appear, on having recourſe to the firſt column of the Table; on inſpecting which will be found 2 l. and oppoſite thereto, in the ſecond column, is 8 s. oppoſite to 5 s. in the firſt column, will be found 1 s. in the ſecond; and by purſuing this method in regard to pence and twentieth parts, there will appear 1 d. 8 20ths and $\frac{4}{5}$; which detached ſums being added together, they produce 9 s. 1 d. 8 20ths and $\frac{4}{5}$, being the real duty of one per cent. inwards, ariſing from the net Old Subſidy before mentioned.

Example the ſecond.

	£.	s.	d.
50 ton of Brimſtone—Amount of the Rate at 6 s. 8 d. per Cwt. is	333	6	8
Groſs Old Subſidy at five per cent. is	16	13	4
Diſcount of five per cent.	0	16	8
Net Old Subſidy	15	16	8
One fifth part of which ſum makes the duty of one per cent, inwards, being	3	3	4
Total duty ariſing from theſe Branches	19	0	0

This duty of one per cent. ariſing on the net Old Subſidy, as above, may be found out, on inſpecting the Table, as was recommended in the firſt Example, regard being had to the difference of the figures.

Example the third.

	£.	s.	d.
300 Cwt. of Italian wrought Silk—Amount of the Rate on which, at 1 l. 13 s. 4 d. per lb. amounts to	500	0	0
Groſs Old Subſidy at five per cent. is	25	0	0
Diſcount at five per cent. is	1	5	0
Net Old Subſidy	23	15	0
A moiety of which ſum makes the groſs additional duty, being	11	17	6
Deduct for prompt payment ten per cent. being	1	3	9
Net Additional Duty	10	13	9
Net Old Subſidy, as above	23	15	0
Total of theſe Branches	34	8	9
On which ſum, the one per cent. inwards being $\frac{1}{20}$ part thereof, makes	6	17	9
The total Duty ariſing to the Revenue from theſe Branches	41	6	6

The

The method of finding out the Duty of one per cent. deſcribed under the firſt Example, being confined to a ſmall ſum, it will be proper to explain the manner of finding out, from the Table, the ſum contained in this laſt Example: On recourſe to the firſt column of the Table will be found 30 l. oppoſite to which in the ſecond column is 6 l. and oppoſite to 2 l. in the firſt column is 8 s. in the ſecond column, which 8 s. being doubled, makes 16 s. which anſwers to 4 l. Having thus found the one per cent. of 34 l. proceed to the ſhillings; and oppoſite to 5 d. and 3 d. in the firſt column, will be found 1 s. $7\frac{4}{20}$ d.—The one per cent. on 9 d. will be found, on ſearching for 6 d. and 3 d. in the firſt column, thus: Oppoſite to 6 d. will be found $1\frac{4}{20}$ d. and to 3 d. $\frac{12}{20}$ parts of one penny.—By uniting theſe ſeveral ſums into a total, they make exactly 6 l. 17 s. 9 d. being the duty of one per cent. inwards, before mentioned.

As a proof that the one per cent. inwards, included in the annexed Examples, is properly charged, multiply either of them by five, and the product will be the net duty on which this branch ariſes; by which it is clearly evident, that no more has been charged on the duty of one per cent. inwards, in any of the foreſaid examples, than what that branch really amounts to.

By carefully attending to the nature and conſtruction of the Examples, the duty of one per cent. inwards may be eaſily found out, by means of the foregoing Table, upon any ſum that can ariſe.

A Deſcription of the Principles of POUNDAGE.

AS the computation of the duties is not only the moſt eſſential, but alſo the moſt difficult part of the buſineſs of the Cuſtoms, a competent knowledge of the manner of levying them, is a qualification that no perſon ſhould want who has the ſmalleſt concern in theſe matters. This is the more neceſſary, becauſe, among the great variety of branches which compoſe the total duties payable on foreign merchandize, there are many in whoſe conſtruction the principles of poundage have been either not underſtood, or in a great meaſure neglected: And without proper attention to this circumſtance, the computation of poundage duties, though calculated with the utmoſt propriety on ſome branches, may yet be extremely deficient on others, which muſt greatly affect the total duties ariſing to the revenue.

Hence appears the neceſſity of being well acquainted with the nature of poundage duties, by which are to be underſtood the cuſtoms, and other duties which are paid on goods imported, excepting thoſe duties which fall ſtrictly under the diſtinction of tonnage, and the arbitrary ſums payable for the old ſubſidy, inſtead of the poundage rate, on the ſeveral ſpecies of corn, when imported under the regulations of the Act of tillage, French or Pearl barley, Train oil, Whale fins, Rape of Grapes, Syder, &c.

By the principles of poundage are meant, not only the peculiar conſtruction of any branch of the revenue, but alſo the way and manner by which the duty thereby impoſed, is directed to be raiſed and levied. This, in moſt caſes, is done, by taking ſo much in the pound, or per cent. according to the reſpective rates or values of the goods; ſuch rates or values being ſuppoſed to be equal to the prime coſt at the foreign market.

Theſe principles, though ſimple and uniform in themſelves, are in moſt of the branches greatly obſcured, by the number of diſcounts and allowances, which are only ſo many impediments to an eaſy and regular calculation of duties. The nature of theſe allowances and diſcounts, and the manner of taking them, muſt therefore be conſidered, and ſtudied with the ſame attention and aſſiduity, as the principles of poundage; and when both are perfectly underſtood, the computation of poundage duties will neither be difficult nor laborious.

From this ſhort definition of the principles of poundage, it is extremely obvious how neceſſary it is to be well acquainted with the method of calculating, almoſt at the firſt view, the one twentieth part, or five per cent. of any ſum whatſoever; and to this end the following Table may be ſerviceable.

As

As a proof of the utility of the Table, and in order to describe the method of calculating five per cent. on large sums; suppose the rate or value on any given quantity of goods should amount to 5689 l. 17 s. 11 d. the five per cent. on this sum may be discovered two different ways; as thus:

First way.

Suppose the pounds to be shillings, take half of them, exclusive of the last figure, and it makes 284 l. The last figure must stand for shillings; then, on inspecting the table, the five per cent. on 17 s. 11 d. produces 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. So that, by adding these sums together, they make 284 l 9 s. 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. which is the real five per cent. of the above mentioned sum.

Second way.

	£.	s.	d.
The $\frac{1}{20}$ part, or half the pounds, exclusive of the last figure, is	284	0	0
The 9 l. remaining, accounted as so many shillings,	0	9	0
The 17 s. 11 d. valued by the table,	0	0	10 $\frac{3}{4}$
The five per cent. makes	284	9	10 $\frac{3}{4}$

To discover whether the five per cent. is properly taken, multiply either of the ways by 20, and they will produce the above sum of 5689 l. 17 s. 11 d.

There being in the management of his majesty's revenue two cases, wherein may be required an operation previous to the computation of the duties; they are severally explained, as follows:

CASE I.

Goods brought into his majesty's warehouses for security of the duties, and after having remained there unentered for the space of six months, sold to the highest bidder, in pursuance of the acts of the 12 Ann. cap. 8. § 11. and 12 Geo. I. cap. 28. § 19.

If sold for more than the duties,

As suppose,

	£.	s.	d.
582 ells plain Hollands linen under 1 $\frac{1}{8}$ ell, sold for	116	8	0
And suppose the charges to be	2	7	6
Net produce of the sale	114	0	6

	£.	s.	d.
The amount of the rate on the above linen, is	145	10	0
5 per cent. of this rate, is	7	5	6
Discount at 5 per cent. is	0	7	3 $\frac{1}{4}$
N° 1	6	18	2 $\frac{3}{4}$
2	6	18	2 $\frac{3}{4}$
3	2	6	0 $\frac{3}{4}$
III	3	2	2 $\frac{1}{2}$
5	7	5	6
16	7	5	6
The total duty	33	15	8 $\frac{1}{4}$
The surplus to be charged to the branch of customs	80	4	9 $\frac{1}{4}$

	£.	s.	d.
That this operation is rightly performed, to the surplus of	80	4	9 $\frac{1}{4}$
Add the full duties, being	33	15	8 $\frac{3}{4}$
And the charges attending the sale of the linen, being	2	7	6
Total, being equal to the real amount of the sale, as above	116	8	0

If sold for less than the duties;

As suppose,

	£.	s.	d.
348 lb. of Succus liquoritiæ, sold for	14	10	0
And suppose the charges to be	0	12	6
The net produce to be charged to the proper branches	13	17	6
The amount of the rate on the above Succus liquoritiæ, is	17	8	0
5 per cent. of this rate is	0	17	4 $\frac{3}{4}$
Discount at 5 per cent. is	0	0	10 $\frac{1}{2}$
N° 1	0	16	6 $\frac{1}{4}$
2	0	5	6
3	0	1	10
4	0	3	8
5	0	17	4 $\frac{3}{4}$
10	16	6	3
15	0	11	7
The full duty, being more than the net produce	19	2	9

And therefore the quantity muſt be reduced after the manner of the next example, and will be found to be 252½ lb. the duties whereof are equal to the net produce of the ſale, as appears by the following operation:

	£.	s.	d.
The amount of the rate on the 252½ lb. of Succus liquoritiæ, is	12	12	4
5 per cent. of this rate, is	0	12	7¼
Diſcount at 5 per cent. is	0	0	7½

The proportion,
As 19 2 9 is to 348 lb.
So is 13 17 6 to 252½ lb.

N° 1.	0	11	11¾
2.	0	3	11¾
3.	0	1	3¾
4.	0	2	7½
5.	0	12	7¼
10.	11	16	6¾
15.	0	8	5¼
Total duty, being equal to the net produce of the ſale	13	17	6

The two foregoing examples proceed on the ſuppoſition, that the firſt ſold for more, and the ſecond for leſs, than the duties: But as it ſometimes happens, that various ſpecies of goods, belonging to one proprietor, are ſold for the duties, in ſuch a caſe, the deficiency of the duties on any one or more ſpecies of merchandize, ſhould be made good, by the ſurplus of the other, previous to bringing to account the net ſurplus on the branch of Cuſtoms, for the behoof of the proprietor, viz.

Having given a ſhort deſcription of the principles of poundage, and laid down two methods for diſcovering the 5 per cent. on the amount of the rates or values on any given quantity of goods, and having alſo given examples of two caſes, wherein may be required an operation previous to the computation of the duties, I ſhall conclude this ſubject, with deſcribing the manner of finding out the ſeveral branches to which any ſpecies of poundage goods may be liable, and the net amount of each branch, by the following examples.

EXAMPLE I.

300 Fans for Corn, imported by Britiſh.

Upon recourſe to this ſpecies of goods at letter F, in the Tables of this compartment, it will be found, that they are rated at 6 s. 8 d. the piece, at which rate they amount to 100 l. ſterling.

In the column of references will be found the letter A, which letter being ſought for in the Table, pages 67, 68, 69, it will be found that Fans for corn are chargeable with the Branches N° 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

In order to diſcover the net ſums to be charged for theſe branches, each of them muſt be conſulted in the following manner.

Amount

		£.	s.	d.
	Amount of the rate	100	0	0
N° 1. or Old subsidy.	On recourse to this branch, under the distinction of Poundage, it will appear, That the fans must be computed at 5 per cent. of the above amount of the rate, which is	5	0	0
	That the discount allowed thereon, being 5 per cent. is	0	5	0
	Whereby the net Old subsidy is	4	15	0
N° 2. or New subsidy.	On recourse to this branch, under the distinction of Poundage, it will appear, That in this example the net New subsidy will be the same as the Old subsidy, which is	4	15	0
N° 3. or ⅓d Subsidy	On recourse to this branch, it will appear to be one-third part of the net New subsidy, which is	1	10	8
N° 4. or ⅔d Subsidy	On recourse to this branch, it will appear to be two-third parts of the net New subsidy, which is	3	4	4
N° 5. or Sub. 1747	On recourse to this branch, it will appear, that it is to be levied at 12 d. in the pound, or 5 per cent. of the rate or value, whereby in the present case it will be	5	0	0
	Total duties to be paid	19	5	0

The same Example done another way.

	£.	s.	d.
Amount of the rate on the fans of Corn is	100	0	0

N° 5. (or Subsidy 1747.)	5	0	0
Total duties to be paid	19	5	0

EXAMPLE II.

Suppose 200 Cwt. of Elephants teeth, imported by strangers.

By pursuing the method laid down in the first example, it will be found, that this species of goods is rated at 4 l. each hundred weight, the gross amount of which will be 800 l. sterling.

Opposite to Elephants teeth, in the column of references, will be found C. 31. and on inspecting the table of references for the letter C. at page 67, &c. it will be found, that Elephants teeth are chargeable with the branches 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 11. the net duties on which may be found out thus:

All these branches are computed in the same manner as those in the first example; but as the impost 1692 and petty customs is calculated in a different manner from other branches, they are particularly described.

	N° 5. (or Subsidy 1747, being 5 per cent. of the rate without discount)	40	0	0
N° 11. or Impost 1692.	On recourse to this branch it will appear, that Elephants teeth, the 31st article of this duty, as pointed out by the figure 31. annexed to C. the referring letter, is chargeable with 2 s. for every 20 s. of the rate, which amounts to (£. 80 0 0)
	That if this duty is paid down, there must be allowed a discount of 6¼ per cent. which is (£. 5 0 0)
	Whereby the net Impost is	75	0	0
N° II. or Petty custom.	On recourse to this branch, it will be found, that in the present example it is to be levied at 1¼ per cent. of the rate, being ¼ part thereof, which is	10	0	0
	Total duties	239	0	0

Upon recourſe to Corn in the Tables of this compartment, oats will be found to be rated at 4 s. per quarter; and oppoſite thereto, in the column of references, is the letter A. which at the Table, page 67, &c. will be found to denote, that oats is chargeable with the branches 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

EXA

EXAMPLE V.

600 lb. of Rhubarb (a Drug) imported directly from the place of growth, and in Britiſh ſhips.

On recourſe to Rhubarb under the general head of Drugs, it will be found, that it is rated at 1 l. ſterling the pound weight; and that on conſulting the column of references, the referring letter oppoſite to Rhubarb is K. 10. which by the table of references at page 68, &c. denotes, that this ſpecies of goods is chargeable with the branches 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 10, 15.

To diſcover the net ſums chargeable on each branch, they muſt be conſulted as follows.

		£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.
N° 1. or Old ſubſidy.—	On recourſe to this branch, under the diſtinction of Poundage, it will appear,
	That in this example it is to be levied according to the rates of the goods, which on Rhubarb amount to ——	600	0	0
	That being imported directly, and in a Britiſh ſhip, it is to be computed only at 5 per cent. of the rate, which is	30	0	0
	That there muſt be allowed thereon a diſcount of 5 per cent. which is —	1	10	0

N° 2. or New ſubſidy.—	On recourſe to this branch, under the diſtinction of Poundage, it will appear,
	That in the preſent example, it is to be levied at 5 per cent. on $\frac{1}{3}$ of the rate, which is	10	0	0
	That on this $\frac{1}{3}$ there is to be allowed a diſcount of 5 per cent. which is—	0	10	0

N° 10. or Impoſt 1690.—	On recourſe to this branch it will appear, that the Rhubarb, the 10th article of this duty, is chargeable with 2 s. for every 20 s. of the above rate, which is	60	0	0
	That this ſpecies of goods being imported directly from the place of growth, the groſs impoſt muſt only be $\frac{1}{3}$ part of this ſum, which is	20	0	0
	That if this duty is paid down, there muſt be allowed a diſcount of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. which is	1	5	0

EXAMPLE VI.

Certain quantities of Earthen ware not particularly rated, containing 1200 lb. weight.

By 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. this ſort will be found to be rated at 10 d. the pound, at which rate the above quantity amounts to	50	0	0
And the branches chargeable upon this Earthen ware, are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 10.
On conſulting the Old ſubſidy, &c. as recommended in former examples, it will be found, that this branch muſt be chargeable at $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the rate or value, whereby the net Old ſubſidy, or N° 1. after deducting a diſcount of 5 per cent. will be	3	11	3
N° 2. (or New ſubſidy)	3	11	3

That if this duty is paid down, there muſt be allowed a diſcount of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. which is	0	7	$9\frac{3}{4}$

The net duty on theſe branches may be diſcovered thus:

CHAPTER the THIRD,

CONTAINING

TABLES

WHICH EXHIBIT

The net DUTIES and DRAWBACKS on all the unrated ſpecies of merchandize, excepting the Eaſt-Indian articles, from 1000 l. to 6 d.

IN the foregoing ſheets, the duties and drawbacks on all the rated ſpecies of merchandize, excepting the Eaſt-Indian articles, &c. are particularly deſcribed and explained, from page 79 to page 386.—But as it frequently happens, that many ſpecies of goods are imported, which not being rated, either by the Acts of 12 Car. II. cap. 4. or the 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. or any other particular Act of parliament, are chargeable with duty ad valorem, agreeable to the 4th Rule annexed to the Additional Book of Rates, paſſed by 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. as inſerted at the end of Compartment the ſecond, Chapter the third:—The following ſets of Tables are therefore deſigned, to repreſent the total net duties payable on theſe goods ad valorem, according to the particular circumſtances of entry and importation, and the net drawbacks to be repaid on due exportation.—It muſt, however, be obſerved, that the ſeveral values and prices of unrated goods are to be aſcertained by the oath or affirmation of the merchant-importer, in the preſence of the cuſtomer, collector, comptroller and ſurveyor, or any two of them, and that the duties chargeable on theſe goods are not to be reckoned into the value given on oath.—If the goods are undervalued, they may be taken by the officers, and ſold for the uſe of the crown.

Vide 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. § 7.—4th Rule of Additional Book of Rates above mentioned, and Branch N° 42. at page 62.

Vide alſo Act 5 Geo. III. cap. 43. § 2. where the application of the produce ariſing from the ſale is particularly deſcribed.

EXPLANATION of the TABLES contained in the ſecond Compartment.

THE goods which reſpect this compartment are Tobacco, whether of Britiſh or foreign product, the ſeveral ſpecies of Wine, &c. and the Eaſt-Indian articles, both rated and unrated; of all which in their order.—As the manner of finding out the duties on Tobacco does not greatly differ from former explanations, laid down in the firſt compartment, it will be needleſs to repeat the ſame again.

THE duties on Britiſh plantation Tobacco may be either paid down at the time of importation, or only the old ſubſidy paid, and ſecurity given for payment of the other branches at the expiration of eighteen months, to commence from the day of entry.—If all, or any part of theſe bondable duties are paid down before the eighteen months expire, the merchant-importer is entitled to a diſcount of ſeven per cent. per annum on the ſum paid, for ſo many of the eighteen months as remain unexpired.—Inſtead of all or any part of the bondable duties being paid, as juſt mentioned, it may happen that the eighteen months ſhall expire before the Tobacco be exported; and in this caſe, the crown is entitled to receive intereſt at the rate of ſix per cent. per annum, till ſuch time as the bond is diſcharged, either by regular exportations of the Tobacco, or by paying down the duties formerly ſecured.—Vide Acts 9 Geo. I. cap. 21. 24 Geo. II. cap. 41. and 4 Ann. cap. 6.—To anſwer theſe caſes as they happen to ariſe, tables of intereſt at ſix and ſeven per cent. per annum, calculated to a farthing, and from 500 l. to 1 s. &c. are inſerted immediately after the tables, deſcribing the duties and drawbacks on Britiſh plantation Tobacco.

THE ſeveral ſpecies of Wine are the goods that occur next in this compartment:—The columns repreſenting theſe goods, with the duties and drawbacks, are conſtructed (excepting as to French Wine) as follows.—The two firſt columns repreſent the particular ſpecies of Wine, and the quantity on which duties are chargeable; the four ſucceeding columns deſcribe the duties, according to the particular circumſtances of importation and entry, whether imported for ſale or for private uſe; and the eight remaining columns contain the net drawbacks due on exportation, whether the Wine ſhould be exported to any foreign part, or to the Britiſh plantations in America.—As the duties payable on Wines required a great extenſion of columns for deſcribing them, a particular diſtinction having been made by the Act 4 Geo. III. cap. 15. between the drawbacks to any foreign part, and to the Britiſh American colonies, it was not poſſible, under theſe circumſtances, to include in the extenſion the duties and drawbacks on Wines when imported by vintners or retailers, each page being ſufficiently full without ſuch an inſertion; and in regard ſuch a circumſtance of importation ſeldom or never occurs in Scotland, and perhaps not frequently in England, it is apprehended the want of ſuch an extenſion cannot be conſidered as a miſtake, eſpecially as the total net duties and drawbacks on a ton and on a gallon of the ſeveral ſpecies of Wines, except French, which may be entered by vintners or retailers, are diſtinctly put down at the foot of each page:—The above Act having made no alteration in regard to the drawbacks on French Wines, whereſoever exported, the ſeveral circumſtances of importation for ſale, private uſe, vintners or retailers, are all exhibited on one page, which contains the reſpective duties and drawbacks.—For the ſake of diſtinction, the ſeveral ſpecies of Wine imported into the port of London are deſcribed firſt, and thoſe for the out-ports immediately after.

HAVING deſcribed the conſtruction of the ſeveral columns repreſenting the duties and drawbacks on the different ſpecies of Wines, I ſhall proceed to point out the manner of finding the net duties and drawbacks on any quantity and ſort of Wine, according to the particular circumſtances of importation and entry, by the following examples.—1*ſt*, Suppoſe it were required to find out the net duties and drawbacks on 37 tons, 3 qrs. 42 gall. of French Wine unfilled for ſale, by Britiſh, from a place of growth, imported into the port of London; turn to page 434, where this ſpecies of Wine is inſerted; and in the third line of the ſecond column will be found 30 tons, in the ſixth and eighth lines of the ſame column are 5 tons and 2 tons; in the tenth line are 189 gallons, being 3 qrs. and in the thirteenth line are 42 gallons; which ſeveral quantities united together, make 37 tons, 3 qrs. 42 gall. the quantity imported; and oppoſite to theſe reſpective lines will be found, in the third column, the ſeveral duties ariſing thereon.—If the Wine ſhould be exported, conſult the ninth column in the ſame manner as was done for finding out the duties, and the drawback due on a regular exportation will eaſily appear.—Inſtead of being imported for ſale, the Wine may be imported for private uſe, or for vintners or retailers; if for private uſe, then conſult the fifth column, where the ſeveral duties are inſerted; and if the proprietor ſhould export it, the drawbacks will appear, on having recourſe to the eleventh column.—The ſeventh column repreſents the ſeveral duties ariſing on the above quantity, if imported by vintners or retailers; and in the thirteenth column will be found the proper drawbacks due on a regular exportation.—The ſecond example may be an importation of 67 tons, 1 qr. 27 gall. of Red Portugal Wine unfilled for ſale, by Britiſh, and imported into the port of London from a place of growth:—This ſpecies of Wine, and circumſtance of importation, will be found at page 438; the quantity may be found thus:—In the third line of the ſecond column are 30 tons, which being doubled makes 60 tons; and in the ſixth and eighth lines of the ſame column are 5 tons and 2 tons, which added together make 67 tons; in the twelfth line are 63 gallons, or 1 qr. and in the ſeventeenth line are 20 gallons; in the nineteenth

nineteenth are 5 gallons, and in the twenty-firſt line 2 gallons; which ſeveral quantities united together, make exactly the quantity imported, being 67 tons, 1 qr. 27 gall. and oppoſite to theſe quantities, in the third column, will appear the proper correſponding duties ariſing to the crown.—The proper drawbacks due on exportation, whether exported to the Britiſh American colonies or to foreign parts, are eaſily found, on having recourſe to the ſeventh and eleventh columns, which deſcribe the reſpective drawbacks.—Should this Wine be imported for private uſe, the proper duties and drawbacks may be readily found, regard being had to theſe particular columns.—The circumſtance of an importation by vintners or retailers is provided for at the foot of the page, where the total duties and drawbacks on a ton and a gallon are deſcribed.—The third and laſt example may be furniſhed from Hungary or German Wines, &c.—Suppoſe an importation of 25 tons, 2 qrs. 31½ gall. of Rheniſh Wine by ſtrangers, or in a foreign ſhip, brought into any port from a place of growth, and entered as unfilled for ſale, look for page 436, where this ſpecies of Wine, and circumſtances of importation are inſerted, and in the ſecond column the ſeveral quantities will appear almoſt at the firſt inſpection; and oppoſite to theſe quantities, in the fourth column, will be found the proper correſponding duties as payable to the crown.—Should the Wine be exported, the net drawbacks, on conſulting the proper columns, appear with equal accuracy and diſpatch.——By the Acts 3 Geo. III. cap. 12. and 4 Geo. III. cap. 13. all ſorts of Wine, except Madeira Wines, from the Britiſh plantations in America, or from the Eaſt-Indies, ſuppoſing them to be entered as unfilled, yet, if not imported from places of their growth, are liable to pay the ſame duties as Wines filled up; which regulations muſt be attentively conſidered:—The following Liquors, viz. Perry, Rape of grapes, Syder, Sydereager and Vinegar, are included in this compartment, becauſe the old ſubſidy chargeable on them is ſtrictly a tonnage, and the other duties ariſing from Vinegar are reciprocally compoſed of tonnage and poundage principles.—The conſtruction of the columns repreſenting the duties on theſe articles, are adapted to the particular circumſtances of importation and entry, and the variations reſpecting each article being but ſmall, the manner of finding out the net duties on Perry and Vinegar, will be a ſufficient guide in regard to the reſt.—Suppoſe an entry of 3 tons, 1 qr. 25 gall. of Perry, not French, imported into any port by Britiſh, and filled up; on recourſe to page 467, this ſpecies of goods appears, and in the ſecond line of the ſecond column are 3 tons, in the ſeventh line are 63 gallons or 1 qr. and in the tenth and twelfth lines of the ſame column are 20 gallons and 5 gallons; which quantities added together, make exactly the quantity imported; and oppoſite to theſe ſeveral lines will be found, in the fourth column, the correſponding tonnage duties ariſing to the crown.—Beſides the tonnage duties, Perry is alſo chargeable with an exciſe duty after the rate of 14 l. per ton, and with certain poundage duties according to the value given on oath.—On recourſe to the eighth column, the Exciſe duty will appear, by following the reſpective lines above mentioned: And it muſt be obſerved, that in the firſt column on the ſide of Perry ſtands the figure (37), which refers to a table marked with that figure, and placed at page 393, where the net poundage duties will appear upon any value given on oath; when all theſe ſeveral duties are united together, the total duties payable on the above quantity of Perry are found out, and the ſeveral drawbacks due on a regular exportation will alſo appear, regard being had to the proper columns.—Suppoſe an entry of 6 tons, 2 qrs. 15 gall. of Vinegar not French, imported by Britiſh, and unfilled for ſale, turn to page 470, and in the firſt line of the ſecond column are 3 tons, which being doubled produces 6 tons; in the fourth line are 126 gall. or 2 qrs. and in the ninth and tenth lines are 10 gall. and 5 gall. all which united together, make the quantity imported; and oppoſite to theſe reſpective lines, in the ſixth column, will appear the proper correſponding duties as payable to the crown.—If imported for private uſe, or by vintners or retailers, theſe circumſtances of importation are provided for at the foot of the page, where the total net duties on a ton and on a gallon are put down.—The laſt ſpecies of goods in this compartment, are the Eaſt-Indian articles, whether rated or unrated:—With reſpect to the rated articles, the ſeveral columns repreſenting the duties, &c. and the manner of finding them out, being entirely ſimilar with the deſcriptions already given in the firſt compartment of this book, I beg leave to refer the reader thither.—The unrated articles are inſerted from page 479 to page 485; and in deſcribing the ſeveral duties ariſing from them to the crown, Mr. Saxby's plan, being the beſt, is adopted, ſo far as was conſiſtent with inſerting the full duties on any given quantity.—The manner of finding out the net or reduced value from the price at the ſale, and the net duties flowing from that value, are particularly explained at page 478, in regard to all the Eaſt-Indian goods, excepting Muſlins, Cotton manufactures, and Wax-candles, which articles have their net or reduced values ariſing from the ſales, leſs than what generally ariſes, becauſe not only the charges and the company's allowance to buyers is deducted from the groſs value at the candle, but alſo the additional duty to which each ſpecies is liable to by law; and as by this method the reduced value is leſs than uſual, ſo are alſo the net duties ariſing therefrom.

As a guide to thoſe who may incline to try the authenticity of any of theſe calculations, proper canons of proportion are arranged againſt each ſcheme of duties, whereby not only the reduced value, but even the net duties ariſing from that value may be eaſily raiſed; and in order to demonſtrate the truth of theſe methods, a certain proof is introduced at the foot of each page, whoſe total muſt always quadrate with the groſs price at the candle.—An attentive reader will perhaps obſerve, that in the proof the net duties are not equal to the real duties accruing to the crown; which inequality, in calculating the net duties on the reduced value, ariſes from the excluſion of the ſubſidies 1747 and 1759, and thoſe additional duties on the goods liable thereto; for if theſe additional duties, when due, and the ſubſidies 1747 and 1759, being ten per cent. of the groſs value at the candle, are added to the net duties in the proof, there will be a perfect agreement between theſe duties, and the real ones payable to the crown.

Tobacco

TOBACCO, not of the Britiſh plantations, is chargeable, for the Branch N° 9, with 6 d. for every pound weight, out of which groſs ſum, is to be allowed a diſcount of 8 per cent. and a diſcount of 10 per cent:—This diſcount of 10 per cent. per annum makes 12½ per cent. for the firſt fifteen months, if the money ariſing by this branch ſhould be paid within thirty days from the maſter of the ſhip's report; but for each of the ſaid fifteen months elapſed before entry, the importer loſes one fifteenth part of the 12½ per cent.

THE following example will point out the manner of diſcovering any ſum the merchant-importer may loſe on any of the fifteen months elapſed before entry.

EXAMPLE.

SUPPOSE an entry for 1000 lb. weight of Spaniſh or any foreign Tobacco ſhould not be made till two of the fifteen months are expired, the operation muſt be thus.

Whereas, if the money ariſing from the Impoſt had been paid down at the time of entry, or at any time before the expiration of 30 days from the ſhip's report, the Impoſt would only have been 20 l. 2 s. 6 d.

THE duties on Tobacco not of the produce of the Britiſh plantations, whether paid or ſecured, being included in the foregoing tables, according to the moſt common and general caſes of importation, it only remains to ſubjoin a ſhort table, comprehending the difference of the duty with regard to the impoſt on Tobacco, if not paid till a conſiderable time after the ſhip's report.

TABLE, comprehending the difference of duty on the Impoſt on foreign Tobacco, if not paid until any, or all of the months below mentioned are expired.

But

But if after Wines have been entered and landed in any Out-port, they ſhould be brought to London, or within twenty miles of the Royal Exchange, the difference between ſuch Out-port and London duties muſt be firſt paid to the collector of the Cuſtoms neareſt to the place from whence the Wines are to be removed, (26 Geo. II. cap. 12. §. 1.) being what hath been uſually called the LONDON DUTY, which ſee at page 506.

	£.	s.	d.
And beſides the duties deſcribed on the foregoing ſheets, as payable to the Crown, all Wines imported into the port of London, are to pay for the Uſe of the Orphans of the ſaid city, for every ton, as by 5 & 6 Will. & Mary, c. 10. §. 7.—	0	4	0
And, if imported by Strangers, the ancient duy of Butlerage, being the ton,——	0	2	0
All Wines of the growth of the Levant, imported into any port by Strangers, are to pay, for the uſe of the town of Southampton, for every butt or pipe,———	0	10	0

Wine Lees, imported into any port, are to pay the ſame duties as Wine; but are exempted from drawback upon exportation. 1 Geo. II. cap. 17.

Note, No Wines, except of the dominions of the Great Duke of Tuſcany in open flaſks, or of Turkey, or any other parts of the Levant ſeas, may be imported in flaſks or bottles.

And that though part of the duties on Wines may be ſecured by bond, yet as that does not frequently happen, all the duties are here computed, as paid down in ready money; therefore, when bond is to be given, you muſt conſult the Additional Duty, Impoſt on Wines, and Impoſt 1692.

But Wines may not be brought in any other than Britiſh or Iriſh ſhips, or ſhips of the built of the country of which they are the growth, or of the port where they can only, or are moſt uſually firſt ſhipped; nor from the Netherlands or Germany, except Rheniſh or Hungary Wines from Hamburgh. See Deal boards, and Goods inwards, Art. 5. in the Abſtract of the Laws.

For other Regulations ſee Wines in the Abſtract of the Laws.

By act 13 and 14 Car. II. cap. 11. the different and reſpective rates, formerly affixed to the liquors Perry, Rape of Grapes, Syder and Vinegar, as a foundation for raiſing the duties payable to the Crown, were altered as follows:

		Old Subſidy.
Perry, Rape of Grapes, Syder, and Vinegar, the ton,	By Britiſh, —	4 10 0
	By Strangers,	6 0 0

As the other Branches payable on Vinegar are regulated by the principles of Tonnage and Poundage reciprocally, the manner of levying them will beſt appear on conſulting each Branch.

The above mentioned liquors of and from Guernſey, Jerſey, Sark, and Alderney, may be imported without payment of any other duties, than ſuch Exciſe as is chargeable at the time being on the like liquors made in this kingdom. See Branch No. 45. and Goods inwards, Art. 14. in the Abſtract of the Laws.

But Vinegar may not be imported in any other than Britiſh or Iriſh ſhips, or ſhips of the built of the country of which it is the product, or of the port where it can only, or is moſt uſually firſt ſhipped. See Goods inwards, Art. 5. in the Abſtract of the Laws.

A DESCRIPTION of the PRINCIPLES of TONNAGE.

BY the Principles of Tonnage are meant the nature of the ſeveral duties hereby ariſing to the Crown, and the manner of levying them.——Theſe duties are certain and determinate ſums, payable according to the particular circumſtances of importation on ſuch ſpecies of merchandize as are liable thereto, and conſtantly regulated by the ton, by which means the principles themſelves are regular and uniform, and may be more eaſily underſtood than the principles of Poundage, eſpecially as the groſs Tonnage duties are fixed and abſolute ſums, whereas the rates of Poundage goods are almoſt as various as the ſpecies themſelves.

The goods which chiefly come under the regulations of Tonnage are the ſeveral ſpecies of Wine; but there are other ſpecies of goods, on which, either the Old Subſidy by itſelf, or ſome of the other Branches along with it, are regulated by the principles of Tonnage.—To the firſt claſs belong all the ſpecies of Corn when imported under the regulations of the Tillage Act; alſo Pearl Barley, Train Oil, Whale Fins, Rape of Grapes, Syder, and Vinegar; the Old Subſidy on theſe goods being charged by a fixed and abſolute ſum, inſtead of flowing from the ſeveral and reſpective rates granted by the act 12 Car. II. cap. 4.—To the ſecond claſs belong only two ſpecies of goods, viz. Perry and Vinegar; and on Perry, except the Old Subſidy, there is only the Coinage Duty, which is regulated by the ton: The duties on Vinegar are indeed compoſed of Tonnage and Poundage principles reciprocally, for the Branches with which this commodity is chargeable are No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 17, 37, 38. and of theſe 1, 8, 17, 37, 38. are exactly Tonnage duties, but 2, 3, 4, 5, are Poundage duties.

By giving proper attention to this definition of Tonnage Principles, and carefully ſtudying the extent of thoſe ſeveral diſcounts and allowances which are uſually made from the fixed and abſolute ſums, the officers of the revenue may always calculate the Tonnage Duties with eaſe and preciſion.

UNRATED GOODS.

THE duties on unrated Eaſt-Indian goods are to be paid according to the real prices for which the goods are ſold at the candle, deduction being made therefrom (as directed by 2 and 3 Ann. cap. 9.) of ſo much as the net duties payable do amount unto, and of ſix per cent. allowed to the company for charges, and alſo * of ſo much as the company ſhall, bona fide, allow for prompt payment to the buyers, and the remainder will be the net values on which the duties payable are to be computed; theſe net values will be therefore more or leſs, reciprocally, as the amount of the duties are more or leſs, to which any ſpecies of goods is reſpectively liable.

* The allowance of the company to the buyers is $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

As the Subſidy 1747 (by 21 Geo. II. cap. 2.) and Subſidy 1759 (by 32 Geo. II. cap. 10.) are each of them 5 per cent. on the groſs price of goods at the candle, no deduction muſt be made in reſpect of thoſe duties.

And as to japanned or lacquered ware, the duties thereon are to be paid according to the true and real value, to be aſcertained by the groſs price at which they ſhall be ſold by the candle. 12 and 13 Will. III. cap. 11. § 15.

The manner of reducing any price at the candle to its net value, and of obtaining the amount of the net duties payable in order to make the proper deductions, may be thus explained.

From the price at which any goods may ſell for at the candle, deduct the charges and allowance for prompt payment, as directed by 2 and 3 Ann. and from this remainder deduct alſo the net duties payable thereon, and the remainder will be the net or reduced value of the goods: The duty ariſing therefrom will therefore be more or leſs, in proportion to the amount of the impoſt 1690, &c.

By the particular character annexed to any of theſe ſpecies of goods, on conſulting the Table, page 68, &c. the ſeveral branches to which they are liable will appear.

Suppoſe certain Eaſt-Indian manufactures ſold for 1000 l. the net reduced value, and the net duties thereon, may be found out thus.

Or thus,

As 1330 0 0 {net value with the duties} is to 1000 0 0 {net value without the duties;

So is 875 0 0 {leſs than the value at the candle, by deduction of the charges} to 657 17 11 {the net or reduced value}

WITH

An APPENDIX, containing a Plan for ſecuring the uſefulneſs of the Work;

AND

An Abſtract of all the Laws now in Force, relating to the Cuſtoms; to which is annexed the reſpective Continuations of thoſe Laws granted only for limited Times.

EXPLANATION of the TABLES, &c. contained in the third Compartment.

HAVING in the two former compartments prefixed ample and copious explanations, by way of elucidating any difficulties that might occur on conſulting them, it was judged extremely proper to purſue the ſame method in regard to this compartment.—The ſeveral ſubjects, as contained under their proper chapters, and which belong to this compartment, are, The rates of merchandize outwards, with the net duties payable on goods exported:—The net duties on goods brought coaſtwiſe, with the proper drawbacks:—The ſeveral allowances and bounties granted for the encouragement of trade; and an abſtract of all the laws relating to the revenue of Cuſtoms.—Thoſe tables which are inſerted in this compartment for deſcribing the duties and drawbacks, only belong to the two firſt ſubjects, and in regard to the net duties outwards, are conſtructed after the following manner:—They are placed on the page in four ſeveral diviſions, to each of which the eye is conducted by that ſpecies of goods which begins the ſucceeding diviſion, and each diviſion conſiſts of five columns, whereof the firſt repreſents the ſpecies itſelf, the ſecond the quantity chargeable with duty; the third column exhibits the rate from which the duty ariſes, the fourth the duty itſelf, and the fifth points out, as uſual, the branch or branches to which each reſpective ſpecies is liable.—When the reader carefully attends to this arrangement, the duties payable on any ſpecies of goods exported, may be found out thus:—Suppoſe an entry outwards for 47 Cwt. 3 qrs. 7 lb. of Britiſh Alum, turn to page 494, and in the ſecond column of the firſt diviſion is contained a quantity from 100 Cwt. down to 7 lb. therefore in the fourth line of that column will be found 20 Cwt. which being doubled produces 40 Cwt. in the ſixth line are 5 Cwt. and in the eighth line 2 Cwt. in the tenth line are 3 qrs. and in the fourteenth line are 7 lb. which ſeveral quantities added together, make 47 Cwt. 3 qrs. 7 lb. and oppoſite to theſe ſeveral lines, in the fourth column of this diviſion, will appear the proper duties; and by uniting them into one ſum, the total duty payable to the crown on the exportation of the Alum is clearly ſeen.

THIS deſcription of the method of finding out the duty payable on the exportation of the Alum, is equally applicable to almoſt all ſorts of goods that are liable to duty when exported, particular care being taken to obſerve in which of the diviſions the ſpecies of goods ſought for is placed, ſo that a repetition of examples will be needleſs.——The ſecond ſubject in this compartment which requires tables for deſcribing the duties and drawbacks, is for goods brought coaſtwiſe from port to port; and as the columns in theſe tables differ from thoſe made uſe of for pointing out the duty on goods exported, it will be very proper that the manner of their conſtruction ſhould be attended to.—Inſtead of being placed in four diviſions on a page, like thoſe for the goods outwards, theſe tables are only in three diviſions, and each diviſion conſiſts of five columns:—Of theſe, the two firſt repreſent the ſpecies of goods, and the quantity liable to duty; the two next columns deſcribe the duty and drawback, and the fifth contains the letters of reference.—The reader's own ſagacity, joined to the ample directions already given, will, it is apprehended, be ſufficient for finding out the duty and drawback on any ſpecies of goods that may be brought coaſtwiſe.—By a paragraph in the printed propoſals it was propoſed, that in treating on the bounties and allowances payable out of Cuſtoms, it would be expedient to deviate in ſome reſpects from former plans, as ſuch a deviation might very much conduce towards making them be better known and underſtood, eſpecially as they are already become very numerous, and, in point of management, an extenſive and formidable branch of buſineſs.—By this means the intention of the legiſlature in granting them, will be alſo more fully and compleatly anſwered:—Theſe deviations are twofold; one reſpecting the inſertion of proper tables at each reſpective bounty, &c. which contain the amount thereof on any quantity of goods entitled thereto, the other regarding a particular arrangement of theſe bounties and allowances; which deviations are the more neceſſary, becauſe the bounties and drawbacks on Britiſh exciſeable goods exported, have been by former authors mixed and blended together with the bounties, &c. payable out of Cuſtoms, without any proper diſtinction, except their reſpective titles. With a view of anſwering theſe purpoſes, I have collected all the bounties and allowances belonging to the Cuſtoms, and the premium on Naval ſtores imported, into one ſyſtem, and have numbered each of them arithmetically:—The bounties and drawbacks on the Exciſeable goods form another ſyſtem, numbered in the ſame manner.—By diſtributing all theſe bounties, &c. into two ſyſtems, and by making a particular diſtinction between them, it is apprehended that gentlemen in trade and buſineſs will not miſtake the one for the other, which at preſent frequently happens, eſpecially when it is conſidered, that the exciſeable goods which obtain a bounty or drawback, are always ſhipped for exportation, under the eye and management of the officers of the Cuſtoms, who become thereby proper judges as to the performance of every requiſite of law, and whether or not the exporter is intitled to a debenture; ſo that whenever the collector, not having money in his hands to pay the debenture, ſhall certify the ſame to the commiſſioners, it muſt be underſtood that the ſame is certified upon the commiſſioners of Exciſe who are to pay the money, and not upon the commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms, who have no concern therein.

MERCHANTS, and others who engage in this branch of buſineſs, ſhould have a competent knowledge of the ſeveral funds allotted for the payment of each reſpective bounty, as a thorough acquaintance therewith muſt certainly be of conſiderable advantage in the way of trade.—So far as this knowledge bears reference to the bounties and allowances contained in the firſt ſyſtem, the ſtate of the ſeveral funds appointed for their payment may be thus deſcribed:—All theſe bounties, excluſive of the premium on Naval-ſtores, have either ſmall or extenſive funds allotted for their payment; to the firſt claſs belong the bounties on Corn, Sailcloth, Spirits drawn from corn, Ships for the Herring-fiſhery, Indico, Tobacco damaged, and Hemp or Flax, being the numbers 1, 3, 4, 9, 11, 12, 19; and to the ſecond claſs belong the bounties on Britiſh refined Sugar, &c. Silk manufactures, Gunpowder, Ships for the Whale-fiſhery, Linen, Wines damaged, Portage, Gold and Silver thread, Fiſh and Fleſh, Deals, Timber, &c. being the numbers 2, 5, 6, 7, 10, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 20:—Thoſe in the firſt claſs have the old cuſtoms, deſcribed at page 3, appropriated for their payment, whoſe branches are the numbers I, II, III, IV and V; and though, in all probability, the produce of theſe branches may be in England pretty conſiderable, yet in Scotland the branches N° I, II, III are only to be depended on, and eſpecially the firſt; ſo that from this ſmallneſs of the funds it frequently happens at the out-ports, that the payment of theſe bounties are certified on the commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms, in order to be paid by the receivers-general at London or Edinburgh reſpectively:—One thing muſt, however, be attended to by thoſe who are concerned in theſe articles, whether, when any of the bounties are certified for payment on the commiſſioners, the collector may not at that time have money in his hands ſufficient for the diſcharge thereof, an accident which may happen, either through a multiplicity of buſineſs, or a wrong application of the produce of the Cuſtoms, and therefore ſuch an attention will prevent expenſive and inconvenient correſpondencies, which otherwiſe, under ſuch circumſtances, muſt be unavoidable.—The funds allotted for the payment of thoſe bounties and allowances belonging to the ſecond claſs, ſeldom or never fail being more extenſive than the funds appertaining to the firſt claſs, as having more branches appropriated for that purpoſe, there being no leſs upon a medium than about five of them, and their produce pretty conſiderable:—No part of the cuſtoms or exciſe is appointed for the payment of N° 17, being the premiums on Naval ſtores imported, they being paid by the commiſſioners of his majeſty's navy, by bills made out for that purpoſe, according to their courſe.—Beſides the hints above given in relation to the funds allotted for the bounties and allowances payable out of Cuſtoms, it muſt be further obſerved in regard to Corn, that the bounties on the ſeveral ſpecies thereof, if paid by the reſpective receivers-general of London or Edinburgh, are, previous to their payment, ſubject to ſeveral practical regulations: 1*ſt*, The debentures iſſued out for obtaining payment, are always, after being expeded, preſented to the commiſſioners for payment, who make thereon a proper indorſement of the day, month, and year when preſented, which ſerves to aſcertain the priority of each debenture.—2*dly*, After being thus preſented, they are examined as to the ſeveral requiſites required by law, by the examiner of the Cuſtoms, and are afterwards regiſtred in the comptroller-general's office.—3*dly*, When theſe debentures have gone through theſe ſtages, they are then ſigned by the commiſſioners for payment in their courſe, at the expiration of three months, reckoning from the time of their preſentment.—By the Act 26 Geo. II. cap. 15. § 1. if theſe debentures remain unſatisfied more than ſix months from the day of preſentment, they become chargeable with intereſt from that time to the time they are ordered for payment, at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum:—From page 419 to 422 are tables of intereſt at 6 per cent. per annum, ſo that on recourſe thereto, the 3 per cent. ariſing on the debentures may eaſily be found.

THE laſt ſubject as contained in this compartment, and which demands conſideration, is the Abſtract of the laws, or that abridgment of the ſeveral acts of parliament relating to the Cuſtoms and Salt-duty, which has been inſerted in the works of former authors, and continued by them to the reſpective times wherein they wrote.

THOUGH the gentlemen who originally contrived the abridgment have undoubtedly great merit, yet it is to be regreted, that plainneſs and ſimplicity in the conſtruction of it has not been properly attended to; for by introducing continual references from article to article, and by blending a number of general heads together in a promiſcuous manner, the whole becomes ſo very intricate and complex, that very few, except thoſe whoſe daily practice makes them converſant herein, can, after a laborious ſearch, find out many articles which they may want.

WHAT has been juſt mentioned in regard to the abridgment of the laws, may perhaps be conſidered as approaching to cenſure and animadverſion; but to prevent an imputation of this nature, I muſt declare, that my only deſign in making the obſervation, was, to ſtimulate gentlemen of knowledge and ability in theſe matters, and who may enjoy more leiſure than myſelf, to oblige the world with a proper and compendious ſyſtem of the Revenue laws, by which they will acquire honour to themſelves, and confer a laſting benefit on their country.

IN order, however, to promote the ſtudy of theſe laws in their preſent arrangement, it muſt be obſerved, that the general heads themſelves are printed in Roman capital letters, and the ſeveral references to other heads in ſmall Italics.—Under all the general heads are contained, in arithmetical progreſſion, thoſe ſeveral regulations and directions which the wiſdom of the legiſlature thought neceſſary and proper, ſo far as regards our own internal police and domeſtic management, or the ſtate of trade and commerce; on the right hand of every page are arranged, the ſeveral acts themſelves from whence theſe regulations are extracted, with the chapter and ſection, &c.—Whoever, therefore, intends to conſult this Abſtract of the laws, muſt, before ſearching for any article that may be wanted, conſider within his own mind under what general head the article he wants may be comprehended; and on turning to ſuch head, which will be found according to its proper alphabetical letter, he will either obtain the information he wants, or be referred to ſome other general heads which point it out.

THOUGH the ſenſe and ſubſtance of the ſeveral laws contained in this Abſtract are expreſſed in as ample and copious a manner as the nature of ſuch an abridgment would allow, yet where caſes of difficulty ariſe, it would be proper, that officers of the Revenue, and others, ſhould have recourſe to the original acts themſelves, in order to obtain more full and complete information.

THE repeal of ſome, and revival of other acts of parliament happen ſo often, that unleſs theſe circumſtances are attended to, many inconveniencies will ariſe; to prevent which, let the continuation of the ſeveral laws granted only for limited times, which is placed at the end of the Abſtract, be often conſulted, and when any of theſe laws are either repealed or further continued, let the ſame be properly marked.

THE

APPENDIX,

CONTAINING

A PLAN for ſecuring the Uſefulneſs of the preceeding Parts of the Book:

ALSO,

Such ALTERATIONS, made by the Acts of 5 Geo. III. in regard to the Duties of Cuſtoms, as could not be inſerted in their proper Places.

PRevious to deſcribing any rules, or laying down any methods for accompliſhing ſo neceſſary a point, it muſt be obſerved, that no rules or methods can well extend to any ſcheme of duties, except thoſe which are entirely conſtructed upon the principles of Tonnage and Poundage, all others being of a mixed or uncertain nature, and conſequently to attempt the making any proviſion for them would be a fruitleſs undertaking.

The principles of Tonnage and Poundage, if the alterations introduced into the Old Subſidy by ſeveral acts of parliament on Corn when imported under the regulations of the Tillage act, Whale Fins, &c. are excluded, bear reference to the duties which are payable on the greateſt number of goods inſerted in the Book of Rates, and therefore the intended plan will be confined to theſe principles.

TONNAGE.

Whatever New Duty may hereafter be granted under this head muſt be ſuppoſed to be equal in all reſpects with the New Duties of 1745 and 1763, and the ſame indulgence granted in favour of the colonies with reſpect to the drawback of the duty of 1763, muſt alſo be ſuppoſed to extend to this.—— On this ſuppoſition the ſcheme ſubjoined may anſwer the ſeveral purpoſes.

The manner of uſing the ſcheme, and the uſefulneſs thereof, will appear by the following examples.

TABLE of 5 per Cent.

It being apprehended, that the foregoing examples are ſufficient for pointing out the manner of finding the ſuppoſed Tonnage Duties, the ſcheme for Poundage Duties occurs next.

POUNDAGE.

Any New Duty that may hereafter be granted under this head, muſt alſo be ſuppoſed to be conſtructed after the ſame manner as the Subſidies of 1747 and 1759.—Agreeably to this ſuppoſition the Table of 5 per Cent. is calculated for anſwering all the various purpoſes that can ariſe.

Though the Subſidy of 1747 is extended to all goods liable to the duties of Poundage, and the Subſidy of 1759 only to ſome particular ſpecies of merchandize, yet the table ſubjoined will be equally ſerviceable on the grant of any New Poundage Duty, whether the extenſion ſhould be par ial or univerſal.—The following examples will explain the manner of uſing the Table.

EXAMPLE I.

Suppoſe 520 Cwt. 3 qrs. of Brown and Muſcovado Sugar, imported from the Britiſh plantations.—This ſpecies of goods is rated at 1 l. 10 s. per Cwt. which makes the groſs Old Subſidy to amount to 781 l. 2 s. 6 d.—Look for this ſum in the column of Rates, where where you will find 500 l. 100 l. which muſt be doubled, 50 l. 20 l. 1 l. and 2 s. 6 d.—Oppoſite to theſe ſeveral ſums, in the 5 per cent. column, are the ſums wanted, making 39 l. 1 s. 1½ d. which ſum being added to the preſent duties payable on Muſcovado Sugar, deſcribed at page 220, ſhows what would ariſe to the crown ſuppoſing a New Poundage Duty.

EXAMPLE. II.

Suppoſe an importation of 15 Tons of Spaniſh Brandy, by Britiſh and in Britiſh ſhips.—This ſpecies of Goods is rated at 15 l. per Ton, ſo that the groſs Old Subſidy due thereon, will be 225 l.—To make up this ſum from the table, double the 100 l. and add thereto 20 l. and 5 l. and oppoſite to thoſe reſpective ſums is the 5 per cent. wanted, making 11 l. 5 s. which is the ſuppoſed New Poundage Duty.

EXAMPLE III.

Suppoſe 500 pieces of Barbers Aprons or Checks, each piece not above 10 yards, imported by Britiſh and in a Britiſh ſhip.—This ſpecies of goods is rated at 13 s. 4 d. the piece, which makes the groſs Old Subſidy to be 333 l. 6 s. 8 d.—This ſum may be taken from the table almoſt by inſpection, and the 5 per cent. will be 16 l. 13 s. 4 d. which, ſuppoſing the grant of a New Poundage Duty, is to be added to the other duties deſcribed at page 84.

The

SUPPLEMENT

TO THE

BRITISH MERCHANTS ASSISTANT:

CONTAINING

Thoſe Rated Species of Goods, &c. which are not inſerted in the Work.

As moſt of theſe Goods are ſeldom or never imported, owing to the various alterations introduced into trade and commerce ſince the eſtabliſhing the Book of Rates in 1660, the inſerting them in the body of the work would have diſfigured the plan, and rendered it in many reſpects more intricate; and if the duties payable on them had been equally extended with the reſt of the book, a conſiderable expence would have been thereby incurred, though the utility ariſing either to the merchant or the officer of the revenue, would have been no ways anſwerable thereto: However, it having been apprehended, that either through inattention or deſign, ſome inconveniencies might ariſe from the excluſion of theſe rated articles, the author, willing to avoid the moſt diſtant reflection on this head, has judged it expedient to annex theſe Goods by way of Supplement to the work.

The Reader will pleaſe to obſerve; that where there is a Figure annexed to any Species of Goods, it denotes, that beſides the Duties here exhibited, certain Additional Duties are alſo chargeable, and Tables of theſe Duties, marked with correſponding Figures, will be found from page 387 to page 393.——Where there is an Aſteriſk * affixed to any Goods, it ſignifies that they are prohibited to be imported, the circumſtances of which Prohibition will appear on conſulting the prohibitory Liſt of Goods at the end of the Book.
